90 Per Cent of Appropriation Sought For Navy; 14,611 More Planes Wanted.

Director Davis Says He Plans To Employ Hitler's Own Tactics to Beat Him.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — A $5,236,956,621 appropriation bill, swelling the country's cost of arms to more than six times the bill for World war No. 1, was sent to the house floor today with approximately 90 per cent of the new expenditures earmarked for the navy.

In approving the omnibus second supplementary national defense bill, the house appropriations committee authorized 14,611 new naval planes to complement an unprecedented aircraft carrier building program now under way.

The bill would furnish fresh financial reserves for the war projects of a dozen different government agencies — rubber for the war machine to roll on, air lanes to carry the Allies' message of victory, homes for war workers.

The $5,599,974,309 set apart for the navy would raise its spending credits for the fiscal year of 1943 to $30,827,982,282, while the measure as a whole would increase the total voted for defense and war since 1940 to $220,000,000,000.

A total of $2,862,000,000 was voted to finance construction of the 14,611 naval planes and to help meet the president's production goal of 60,000 planes this year and 125,000 in 1943 for both the army and navy.

In discussing those goals, Commander G. W. Anderson of the navy bureau of aeronautics reported that "peak" production probably would be reached about December of next year.

In addition to the naval allocations, the measure carried $5,000,000 for the Office of Civilian Defense, $25,000,000 for the Office of War Information, $500,000,000 for war housing, $19,000,000 to produce rubber from the Guayule plant, $10,303,000 for the War Manpower commission, $5,200,000 for the Office of Defense Transportation, and $5,000,000 to promote friendly relations between this country and other nations in the western hemisphere.

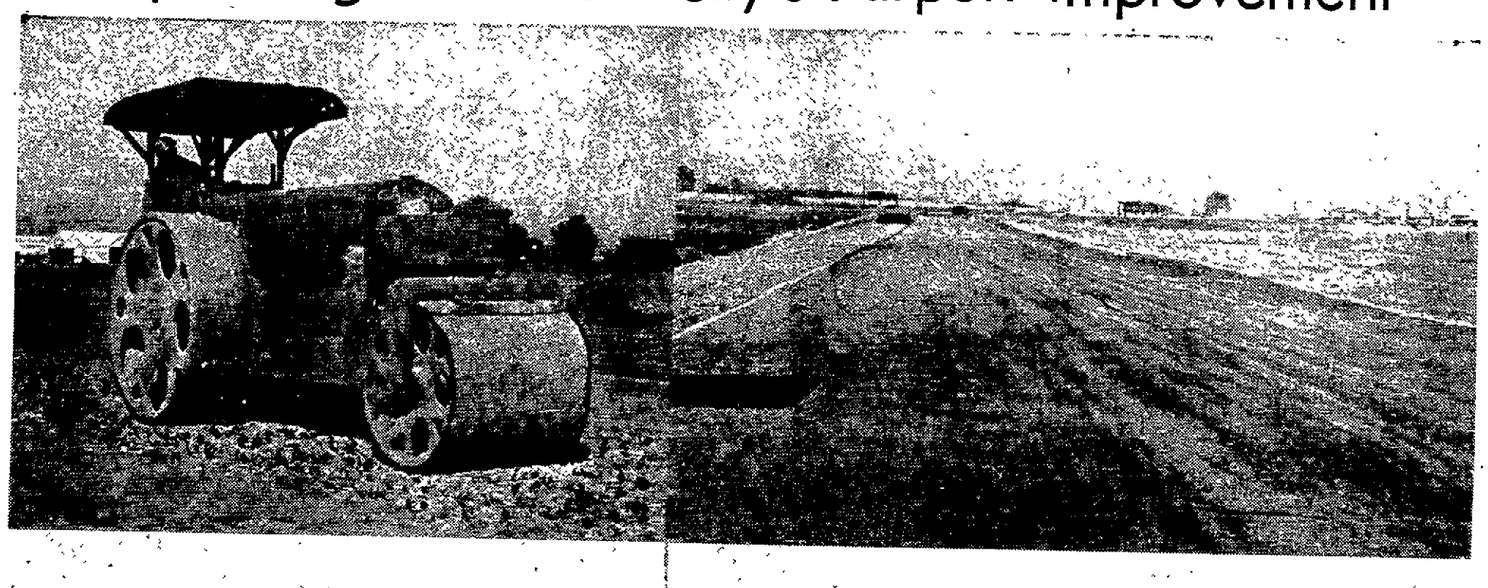
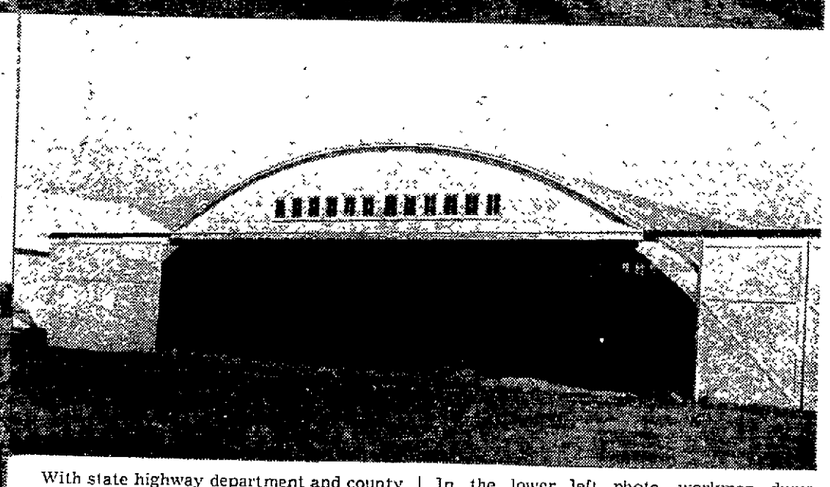
Speeding Work on City's Airport Improvement





With state highway department and county road equipment on the job, the Mansfield airport improvement project received new life yesterday as shown by these pictures. The city is purchasing materials for a hard-surfaced runway and providing labor. The county's roller is shown at work in the upper left picture, rolling slag and stone into a base for the runway. At the right is a view of the partly-completed runway, looking west. It will be 50 feet wide and 2,550 feet long, and will have a bituminous surface. In the lower left photo, workmen dump materials from a county spreader onto the base. The airport's new hangar, which will be ready this week, is shown at the right. The third hangar at the airport, it was built by the Harrington Air Service, operators of the airport, and will house 25 planes. Ray Hout, county civilian defense chairman, revealed today that county road equipment is being kept on the project because of a $2,000 civilian defense donation for the work. J. R. Harrington, airport manager, expects the runway to be ready before cold weather.

$2,000 Defense Fund Starts Ball Rolling at City Airport

The offer of $2,000 in Richland county civilian defense funds for the construction of a hard-surfaced runway at the Mansfield airport spurred action on the part of the city, county, and state to build the $5,000 runway before winter, it was revealed today by Ray Hout, county commissioner and chairman of the county civilian defense committee.

Asserting that he was "tired of seeing the airport project lag," Hout said he promised to contribute $2,000 to the project from the funds the county received from the state for home defense purposes.

Immediately after he made the offer the city which had set up $5,000 for the work and placed some workmen on the job, Hout said. The city is supplying materials and labor.

Before agreeing to contribute civilian defense money to the project, he first obtained the consent of the state civilian defense council which said the funds were available for any worthy defense project, Hout explained.

The $2,000 is being used to put county road equipment on the airport job and to haul materials for the project, Hout said.

Yesterday the state highway department agreed to donate equipment to speed up the runway project. Five state trucks were put on the job today and the state already had a tractor and earth mover working on the landing field.

The "black-top" runway will be 50 feet wide and 2,550 feet long, extending east and west across the landing field.

BLOW TONIGHT

Listen For Whistles at 7, It's Test For Air Alarm System.

No blackout observance will be required this evening when whistles of five Mansfield factories will be tested during a two-minute period, starting at 7 p. m., to determine their noise-spreading ability as an air raid alarm signal.

Under the direction of the civil defense technical committee short blasts will be sounded on the whistles of the Empire Steel, Ohio Brass, Westinghouse, Tappan Stove and Mansfield Tire and Rubber company plants.

Air wardens have been instructed to contact their zone leaders immediately after the test to determine whether or not the signals were heard in the outlying districts of the city. Householders, especially residents of the more remote sectors of the city, also are asked to notify their wardens whether or not they could hear the whistles.

Sheriff Admits He Wrote Note In Blue Goose Case

In reply to criticism that has been voiced in Mansfield for the past week, Sheriff Frank E. Robinson today admitted that he sent a "brief note" in behalf of Nick Hergatt, proprietor of the Blue Goose cafe, Park avenue east road, who was cited by the state board of liquor control for selling to minors.

The sheriff made his statement when he was contacted today at his office. He was on a vacation during the period when the liquor board conducted a hearing on the charges.

The note was written in behalf of Nick Hergatt, cousin of John P. Hergatt, proprietor of the Ringside Nite club. Nick Hergatt's license was suspended for 30 days and John Hergatt's license for 60 days.

"Nick Hergatt asked me if I wouldn't say something in his behalf and I gave him a note saying that my office received no

$5,000 BLAZE

Tractor Sparks Blamed For Fire at Mt. Gilead Mill.

MT. GILEAD — Damage today had been set at $5,000 in the fire which swept the Buckeye Mill of the Morse and Ellis Milling company here yesterday.

Flames, reported to have started by sparks from a tractor which was being used outside the mill, swept the second story of the mill burning away most of the upper part of the structure.

Damage to the building was set at $1,000, to grain and flour at $3,000, and to equipment at $1,000. The company formerly operated a mill at Bellville.

Read 'Wake Up' On Editorial Page

A Mansfielder, Mrs. Marjorie Brook, 201 Euclid avenue, is the author of the article in today's News-Journal in the editorial page space usually filled by Elsie Robinson's column.

In an open letter to the editor of the News-Journal, Mrs. Brook, leader in women's Democratic activities in the county and state, urged Mansfield residents to "wake up to the realities of war." She criticizes hoarders of coffee and sugar and other displays of selfishness by the people back home while boys are giving their lives to protect the nation.

3-DAY 'BLITZ' COMMANDO AIM

'Orders' Go Out To Majors For Big Community War Chest Offensive.

For more than an hour last night majors of 13 divisions of Commando sat around a conference table and got their "orders."

The orders were instructions for next month's Commando invasion of Mansfield's "home front." There was nothing secret about them because by November all Mansfield will know what the Commandos are going to do.

The invasion is planned to take the form of a blitzkrieg, swifter, more intensive, greater and different than any Germany's Adolf Hitler ever turned on.

It was Major General Fred B. Hout who outlined the battle plan to Community War Chest Commando majors last night: It calls for a speedy, three-day blitz, and a mop-up that shouldn't last more than two or three days more.

"There is absolutely no reason in the world why we can't do it in three days and clean it up in

TWO DECORATED

Marines Who Pulled Sergeant From Blazing Plane Honored.

SAN DIEGO, Cal.—(INS)—Heroism medals were awarded two marines who rescued a marine sergeant from the wreckage of a burning plane near Santee last April, the eleventh naval district reported today.

The two are Sergeant Norman C. S. Pearson, 21, of Minneapolis, and Corp. Gordon Miller, 20, of Cincinnati. In addition to the medals, they received citations from President Roosevelt.

High Boys and Girls 'Too Big' To Hunt Scrap, Says Rohleder

The scrap salvage campaign at Mansfield Senior high school is not producing much material according to Principal Glenn G. Rohleder "because these big boys and girls aren't going to go out and hunt scrap. Little children will do it but their interests are different."

Efforts on the part of the school officials to spur the scrap collection campaign at the school, however, have consisted only of a few announcements over the loudspeaker system and posters placed in home rooms.

No attempt to put the campaign on a competitive basis has been undertaken.

"If the campaign was a short one, some enthusiasm might be worked out," Rohleder said. Asked why senior high students weren't interested in scrap collection, Rohleder replied, "Just because they aren't."

(Editor's Note — In starting the nation-wide scrap campaign, government officials called on all citizens to help "get in the scrap."

A survey conducted by The News-Journal yesterday showed that grade schools were leading in the school scrap collection campaign, with the two junior high schools behind them and the senior high school making the poorest showing.

But even though he believes high school students are "too big" to collect scrap, Rohleder gave little indication of interest

Adjutant General Calls For Lowering Draft Age.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Maj. Gen. James A. Ulio, adjutant general of the army, for the second time within a week, appealed today for immediate enlistment of 18 and 19-year-old youths in "this young man's war."

He warned that "too many of us are still qualifying the conditions under which we will go all out to win the war."

Ulio did not specifically propose that congress change the selective service act to include the younger men, but congressional sources revealed that the war department is pressing for immediate enactment of such legislation.

Ulio's statement was made in a radio interview and was similar to a plea he made last Sunday.

Mail Christmas Gifts 20-25 Days Earlier, U.S. Urges

Holiday mail addressed to the armed forces overseas isn't the only mail that must be in the postoffice early this year to assure delivery before Christmas.

A note of warning to senders of greeting cards and packages within the United States was sounded today in a postal bulletin stating that such mail should be in the postoffice between 20 and 25 days before Christmas, depending upon the distance of the destination, in order to assure delivery by Dec. 25.

Early mailing this year is necessitated, the bulletin pointed out, by the war effort which has Senate Leader to Check on Aid for Aged Staff Pay.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—William M. Boyd, Democratic leader in the Ohio senate, announced today that he will make a survey of salaries paid to employes of the Ohio Division of Aid for the Aged.

Boyd said that 72 of the Cleveland staff of the division had petitioned him for aid in obtaining pay increases.

Boyd said the request seemed reasonable.

Relief Attack On Nazi Flank Pushes Onward

Germans Claim Stalingrad Gains But Russians Say They Hold Fast; Soviet Troops Cross Don, to Peril Enemy Supply Line.

(By Associated Press)

Soviet tanks were reported officially to have broken into the vital 40-mile German barrier northwest of Stalingrad today, the 45th day of bloody siege, and Axis sources declared the Russians were beginning to stream back across the Don river.

Hitler's high command asserted Russian forces encircled northwest of Stalingrad had been "split up into two parts and annihilated."

The German Transocean news agency said the encirclement was executed in the suburb of Orlovka, which the German command declared several days ago had been captured. The size of the trapped Soviet contingent was not disclosed.

"Also, in Stalingrad, the enemy had to give up further terrain in heavy struggles," a Nazi communique said.

Transocean said a large block of houses in the northern part of the city had been wrested from the defenders in a fierce fight.

Against these German claims, Soviet headquarters announced confidently:

"Our troops are holding their positions."

More important, the Red armies were declared to be hacking into the German left flank above the Volga metropolis, overrunning Nazi positions studded with half-buried tanks.

The northwest barrier, stretching between the Don and the Volga, has been cited frequently by the German high command as guarding the main siege armies.

A bulletin from Red army headquarters failed to indicate the extent of the Soviet tank thrust, but reported:

"Northwest of Stalingrad, tank crews broke into enemy positions and destroyed tanks dug into the ground, eight guns and five ammunition trucks, and wiped out about 250 Germans."

A Rome radio broadcast, heard in London, said Russian troops surging back across the Don-Volga corridor had bridged the Don with pontoon and regained footholds on the west bank.

If true, this would indicate that Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's relief offensive might threaten seriously the long-drawn German supply lines and possibly even jeopardize the whole Nazi siege effort by an encirclement sweep.

Inside Stalingrad, the city's reinforced defenders beat off every German attack in the last 24 hours, dispatches said, and tightened their hold on recaptured streets.

SEARCH HOMES OF NORWEGIANS

Germans Take Drastic Steps To Quell Rebellion; 15 More Are Put to Death.

(By United Press)

LONDON—German troops and Gestapo agents have started a systematic search of Norwegian homes for arms as the result of big scale patriot disturbances at Oslo, Trondheim and Narvik, Norwegian sources reported today.

It was indicated that the Germans might soon have to declare throughout Norway the state of emergency imposed on the Trondheim area, where 15 more hostages had been slaughtered by Gestapo firing squads in the floodlighted courtyard of their headquarters, to bring a two-day toll to 25.

Advices reaching London said the Germans started house to house searches in Oslo last night and continued them today.

Many persons were being arrested, it was said.

Norwegian advices reported that German soldiers and civilians had clashed in the northern sector of Trondheim area and at least two Nazis and 12 or more civilians had been wounded.

Thirty persons were seized as hostages, and many arrests were

COHEN NAMED

Long-Time New Dealer Will Be Byrnes' Counsel.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Appointment of Benjamin V. Cohen to be counsel to Economic Director James F. Byrnes was confirmed at Byrnes' office today.

Cohen, longtime New Dealer, who has held several legal and administrative posts in the Roosevelt set-up, will be assisted by Donald Russell of Spartanburg, S. C.

Selection of Cohen came as one of the first steps in setting up Byrnes' new office in the White House, from which he will direct the fight to halt increases in living costs and stop inflation.

Known with Thomas G. Corcoran as a member of the legal team of "Cohen and Corcoran," Cohen is a graduate of Harvard law school.

Germans Shackle British Prisoners Taken at Dieppe

BULLETIN

LONDON—(U.P.)—The British government today threatened to place in fetters an equal number of German prisoners unless the Nazis immediately remove the shackles from British prisoners taken at Dieppe.

LONDON—(U.P.)—The Berlin radio announced today that the shackling of British prisoners taken in the raid on Dieppe had started at noon today (6 a. m. EWT).

Britain had announced that, if the Germans carried out their threat in retaliation for the alleged "fettering" of German prisoners, it "will have to consider its future action."

A Berlin broadcast said: "A British answer to yesterday's German high command announcement regarding the treatment of prisoners was regarded here as unsatisfactory.

"Consequently reprisal measures threatened yesterday were carried out."

This meant that the Germans were going to shackle the helpless British prisoners taken at Dieppe.

The government had offered to permit the Swiss legation as agent for Germany to interview German prisoners in Britain to determine that they had been in no way ill-treated.

19 From Airways' Navigation School Awarded Flying Cross

(By United Press)

MIAMI, Fla. — The blocking halfbacks of the army air corps—the erstwhile unsung navigators who guide the big bombers over enemy objectives and back again—are coming in for their share of glory from the men who pass out the medals.

Nineteen graduates of the navigation school which Pan American Airways operates here for the army have been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross since the outbreak of the war.

One of them navigated the plane that carried Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Bataan to Australia. Si . others guided Brig. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's bombers to Tokyo and back.

Another alumnus, Theodore J. Boselli, New York City, former inter-collegiate flyweight boxing champ, has flown more than 125,000 miles over the South Pacific combat area since last Dec. 6. He has navigated planes carrying nearly every British and United States general stationed in the Far East and his flight courses were so skilfully chartered that the planes never came in contact with enemy fighters

Has Four Decorations

Rob R. Carruthers of Larchmont, N. Y., who chartered the MacArthur flight, is the most decorated graduate of the Miami training center. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Oak Leaf cluster, the Purple Heart and Silver Star. The Purple Heart is awarded men wounded in action and the Silver Star is for gallantry under fire.

The six men who navigated the Tokyo flight were cited for "extraordinary achievement" on a mission for which they volunteered "knowing full well that the chances of survival were extremely remote."

They were James H. Macia, jr., of Tombstone, Ariz.; Thomas C. Griffin, Chicago, Ill.; Charles L. McClure, University City, Mo.; Henry C. McCool, Colorado Springs, Col.; Howard A. Sessler and Eugene F. McGurl, both of Arlington, Mass.

The skill of the army's navigators was lauded by Col. Arthur W. Meehan following the surprise attack on Japanese-held Wake Island.

Made Long Flights

Col. Meehan said they not only hit the tiny island "squarely on the nose," but came in at the point best suited for s prise attack.

For navigation in ferrying bombers to Hawaii, flying crosses were awarded Stanley Cottage, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Carl E. Epperson, Havana, Ala.; Paul R. Tarbutton, Laurel, Miss., and John B. Wright, Walnut, Miss.

Francis B. Rang, Santa Monica, Cal., was awarded the DFC for the part he played in the Harriman mission flight to Moscow. Three other graduates, Francis K. McAllister, West Lafayette, O., Joe M. Bean, Santa Ana, Cal., and Eddie W. Hayman, Huntsville, Tex., were decorated for navigating a flight of bombers from Honolulu to the Philippines.

A flight from Washington, D. C., to the Netherlands East Indies won the same award for Charles T. Allen, Birmingham, Ala., and John G. Moe, jr., Tampa, Fla.

George Barr, Queens Village, N. Y., was the other former student to receive the DFC.

Glass for bottle-making is composed chiefly of silica, soda and lime.

THEATERS

Lassoed for Role.

Marjorie Reynolds, Fred Astaire's new dancing partner in "Holiday Inn," at the Ohio, was literally lassoed out of "western" films for one of the prize roles of the season. Virginia Dale, the other partner, has been dancing since Earl Carroll discovered her. The two furnish some choice routines with the lightsome Astaire while Bing Crosby supplies the voice for tunes by Irving Berlin. Walter Abel is also in the cast of the picture that has its setting in a Connecticut farmhouse that operates as an inn only on holidays.

Romantic Story.

John Carroll makes a picturesque and romantic figure out of the title role in "Pierre of the Planes," the action-packed drama of the Canadian northwest showing at the Madison. He breaks up Ruth Hussey's approaching marriage with Bruce Cabot to woo the girl himself and he engages in all sorts of exciting and gay encounters while Cabot provides menace. Reginald Owen and Henry Travers are in the cast. "Little Tokyo," with Preston Foster and Brenda Joyce is the second film

Society Comedy.

Norma Shearer solves the problem—or just about—of evading a charming ne'er-do-well by hiring a handsome young song writer to squire her about a fashionable resort in "Her Cardboard Lover," society comedy at the Ritz. Robert Taylor has the title role while George Sanders appears as the dashing Lothario who shows up at odd moments. Elizabeth Patterson and Frank McHugh are in the cast. "Murder In the Big House" with Faye Emerson and George Meeker shares the bill

Thrilling Story.

Two new stars flash across the Park screen beginning today. Paul Henreid and Michele Morgan, who makes their appearance in a thrilling and suspense-laden story, "Joan of Paris". The story deals with a Parisian girls love for a Free French flyer trapped in enemy territory and of the lengths she goes to help him. Laird Cregar plays the leader of the gestapo and the cast includes May Robson and Thomas Mitchell

CANS ARE MADE WITHOUT TIN

Paper, Grain, Tallow and Bone Are Used in Making New Plastic Containers.

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES — New tinless containers for everything from toothpaste to motor oil were announced here almost simultaneously by two different inventors.

Raymond S. Macmillan, president of Macmillan Petroleum company, told how his research engineer, Albert A. Robbins, developed an all-fibre plastic-lined container which is impervious to oil. He estimated it would save 10,000,000 pounds of metal in his company alone.

Duryea Bensel, 65-year-old experimenter, demonstrated tubes and cans made from paper coated with compound which makes it airtight, able to hold a vacuum and more heat-resistant than tin.

Th old company containers are processed from corn, grains, flaxseed, tallow, animal tissues, bone, clay, straw and waste paper, Macmillan said.

"The first use of these all-fiber plastic-lined containers will be to package motor oil," he explained, "but it is possible to foresee their use in packaging of beer, beans and soup. They represent a 10 per cent reduction in weight over cans previously used, permitting more oil to be shipped per freight carload." The process, he said, could be made available to the petroleum industry.

Compounds reveloped by Robbins during his research, Macmillan continued, include an adhesive to bind together the 3-ply spirally wound paper from which the containers are fashioned, and to cement the tops and bottoms; another to fix labels to the containers and a third to coat the interiors.

DRIVER FINED AFTER CHASE

GALION—William Cook of Bucyrus was fined $50 and costs in Mayor William Amann's court Wednesday as a result of a police chase late Tuesday night. The chase began when the car driven by Cook passed the Galion airport at a high rate of speed, and patrolmen in the police car gave chase. The driver ignored the signal to stop and continued speeding until he reached the first curve west of the North Robinson road, where the car left the road, turned over several times and tore up about 40 feet of fence, police testified.

Louis L. Downing and George Barger of Bucyrus were the other occupants of the car. Downing received a fractured collar bone and was treated at the Galion city hospital. Barger was uninjured.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SCRAPPIN' SPIRIT

From the News-Journal

Friday, Sept. 25th

When it comes to bringing in the scrap four junior grade pupils who termed themselves "Junior Commandos", set a precedent for the rest of the city. In fact they went the people of Nebraska one better in the averaging per capita collection of scrap the past summer. The quartet included Frank and Gordon Black, Country Day school pupils, Stephen Henkel, Woodland school, and Teddy Bullock, seventh grader at Appleseed school and the senior of the other three boys by several years. Using Raemelton Farm as the site for their drive the boys collected approximately three tons of scrap that included old machinery they took apart for the purpose. The sale amounted to $16 which was divided equally among the four workers after each had pledged himself to buy only war stamps with his share.

Sunday, Oct. 4th

Life in a wheel chair didn't stop 12-year-old Joann Dayl Rinehart, Oak road, from participating in the war effort. Through her direction and a little battery of hard-working helpers, all less than 12 years old, the Oak Road Victory club collected 1,000 pounds of scrap.

Rounding up her two sisters. Marilyn, 9, Sonia May, 3, and three neighborhood playmates, Mary Stout and Joan and Jacqueline Gordon, the young leader fired her group to get in the scrap.

She manipulated her wheel chair to the scene of action whenever possible and supervised the collection of rubber, metal and paper. Not only that but she drafted her father, M. B. Rinehart, to transport the collection to a Mansfield junk yard.

HIGHER TRENDS APPEAR DURING EARLY TRADING

Construction Volume Falls Below Previous Week, Tops Year Ago.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Irregularly higher trends appeared in today's early stock market proceedings.

At a fairly active opening gainers of fractions included N. Y. Central, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Homestake Mining, United Aircraft and Montgomery Ward. On the offside were International Harvester, American Telephone, Chrysler and General Electric.

Those interested in shares of building material companies noted the compilation of the engineering News-Record estimating heavy construction volumn this week fell 31 per cent below the previous week but was 78 per cent above the like period a year ago.

Dun and Bradstreet's survey disclosed bank clearings in 23 cities for the week ended Wednesday, while a trifle under those of the week before, were 9.6 per cent larger than in the comparable 1941 week.

Indian Secretary Bares Violence of Gandhi Party.

LONDON —(AP)— Mohandas K. Gandhi's Congress party must shun violence and drop any plan to win its aims through revolution before the British will negotiate with it, L. S. Amery, secretary for India, told the house of commons today.

Amery disclosed 846 persons had been killed and 2,024 wounded since violence broke out in India with the arrest of Gandhi last Aug. 8 just when the Congress party had made him generalissimo of an intended non-violent campaign for independence.

3 NEW CLASSES

Organize New Courses In First Aid This Week.

Three new first aid classes swung into action this week, and another is scheduled to begin Monday night at the Finefrock funeral home where LeRoy McGinty will instruct a class of both men and women.

Nurses' Aids, who had not previously taken first aid training, began their course at First Presbyterian church last night under the instruction of Allen Bond.

A Lincoln Heights class to be held at the school will hold its first meeting tonight in charge of Miss Nancy Bushnell. Earlier in the week a second class for auxiliary firemen was started under the direction of R. Cahall and David Buell.

JURY OF WOMEN CONVICTS FOUR

Finds Ohio Brothers Guilty of Hold-Up Murder.

DAYTON —(UP)— A jury composed entirely of women today convicted the four Richardson brothers of the hold-up murder of Everett "Ab" De Weese but recommended mercy, making life sentences mandatory.

Those convicted were Hairm Richardson, 27, and his brothers, Wade, 25, Tom, 24, and Gentry, 16, all of Miamisburg. They were charged with the shotgun slaying of 37-year-old De Weese in an Alexandersville cafe on July 18.

De Weese, armed with an automatic pistol, tried to prevent a hold-up. His slayers escaped in an automobile and the brothers were arrested by a posse later.

Sheriff Admits He Wrote Note In Blue Goose Case

complaints of violations against his place of business."

Sheriff Robinson said he wrote no letter to the state liquor board or said nothing to its members as an appeal for Hergatt.

"I could say truthfully that the sheriff's office has had no trouble with the Blue Goose, and that's all my note contained," said the sheriff.

A copy of the note the sheriff said he wrote for Hergatt was not available today.

Meanwhile, the state liquor board made public a letter written to the board by Mayor W. J. Locke in behalf of John P. Hergatt, proprietor of Ringside, who also was cited for selling to minors.

Addressed to Harry E. Hawley, chairman of the board, the letter said:

"I have known Mr. (John) Hergatt for the past five years, during which time he has operated the Ringside cafe under a "D-5" permit. During this period, I found that he has operated within the law and have no complaints whatever regarding his operations in Mansfield. Any consideration shown him will be appreciated."

(signed) W. J. Locke, Mayor.

The Ringside permit was suspended for 60 days at the same time action was taken on the Blue Goose license.

Chairman Hawley of the state board said no other letters were received by the board either before or during the hearing on the complaints against the Mansfielders.

SAPPHO CLUB BEGINS YEAR WITH LUNCHEON

First Regular Meeting at Women's Club Features Papers By Miss Reed, Mrs. Rudd; Mrs. R. F. Cox Is New President.

WITH "Rivers of the World—Legends, History and Music" as the program theme for the year, the Sappho club had its initial meeting of the season at the Women's Club on Wednesday. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. Hostesses were Mrs. J. G. Wallace, Mrs. J. H. Todd, Mrs. T. D. Brown, Mrs. R. F. Cox and Mrs. L. S. Houk. Mrs. A. R. Tiel of Beacon, N. Y., mother of Mrs. Paul Eliot, was a guest.

For the program, Miss Thelma Reed gave a paper on "The Art of Listening to Music," after which she presented the following selections as piano solos: "En Bateau," by Camille Veckwer; "Little White Donkeys," by Jacques Ibert, and "Prelude," by George Gershwin. Mrs. Frank Rudd's paper was entitled, "Pirate Rivers."

The new president, Mrs. Cox, presided for the meeting. Other officers for the year are Mrs. Ambrose Middleton, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Jenkins, secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Baer, treasurer. On Oct. 21, the members will again meet at the Women's Club with Mrs. J. H. Bristor as hostess at 2:30 p. m. The attractive blue and gold program booklets were distributed to the members at a luncheon held recently at the Colonial Guest House.

Club to Send Soldiers Gifts

Plans to send Christmas gifts to members' sons were made when the Blue Star Mothers' club met Tuesday evening at the American Legion home. There was a record attendance at the meeting. Miss Ann Zimmerman was present to tell of the need for Nurses' Aids. The use of proceeds from the club's benefit card party was outlined by Earl Saltzgaber.

A membership campaign will begin in the near future with Mrs. L. Hahne and Mrs. James B. Au in charge. The next meeting will take place at the Legion home on Oct. 19.

MISS LONG HOSTESS.

Jolly Times club met at the home of Miss Marcele Long, 515 Woodland avenue, with ten members and one guest, Mrs. Harry Sellers, present. Hearts were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Gladys Stone, Mrs. Richard Pagani, Mrs. Herbert Smith. The hostess served refreshments at small tables. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Pagani on Oct. 21.

Church Women Meet at Home Of Mrs. Tappan

The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. J. Tappan, 308 Park avenue west. A book review on the work of Nicko Smith, entitled, "Burma Road," was given by Mrs. John Heath. Mrs. Sherman Stone, social issues chairman, gave a report on the candidates for the coming November election.

Mrs. B. F. Hagelbarger and Mrs. Earl Penney participated in a quiz on the Phillippine Islands. A hymn entitled, "Ere You Left Your Room This Morning," was sung by Mrs. O. F. Shively and Mrs. J. D. Wilcox. Tea was served to 56 members and guests with Mrs. Eva Leppo and Mrs. Mary Thornberry presiding at the table. Centerpiece for the table, which was set with lovely lace covers and delicate china, was a bouquet of flowers in lavender and white, the missionary colors.

Mrs. J. Carter, division committee chairman, Mrs. C. J. Anderson, Mrs. Etta Charles and Mrs. Hildreth Johns had charge of arrangements. A large white birthday cake decorated with lavender and white candles, was presented by Mrs. Nelson to Mrs. Tappan. Afternoon Dresses Go to Parties

(International Illustrated News Writer)

Extremes are out for the duration both in social activities and clothing. There are more family parties and small groups of good friends than there have been in years. Many of such social activities are planned for Sunday afternoons, and for arrive-early-leave-early evenings. And, of course, this wartime type of entertaining has had a distinct influence on our clothing.

At informal gatherings, whether for dinner or talk, the password will be the afternoon type of dress. As a change from tailored daytime clothes, it provides gaiety without formality.

In this group the suit dress, which may be worn with or without a blouse, is outstanding. Made of such luscious fabrics as moire, faille, or velveteen, and highlighted by jeweled buttons, it is an accepted after-five fashion. The complete absence of fol-de-rol enables you to wear it to the office if your date is set for an early hour. The model in one of the above photographs can be made at home with a minimum of effort and cost, and it requires less fabric than government regulations allow. The slim silhouette is softened by the slightly gathered peplum. The outfit has smooth shoulders, sleeves of below elbow length, and glittering buttons.

Dirndl Is Modified.

Another design that is easy for a beginner seamstress to make is the dress with snug bodice and modified dirndl skirt. The one shown here is a date dress made of velveteen. Tapered outside darts add interest to the basque bodice, and the high neckline is a perfect background for costume jewelry. This frock is made of one of the rich autumn shades of rust, but it would be equally smart in any of the new colors.

Two colors are combined in many of the new styles being featured this fall. Inspired color schemes may be achieved by selecting a pattern designed of two materials, then choosing any two colors that go well together, and are becoming. Usually the colors are the outstanding point in the dress, and the basic lines are simple, so the dress may be worn for both work and play and is easy to make. The one here is a combination of black and white. Soft fullness is provided by rows of shirring in the front. The white vestee has jeweled buttons down the front closing. A belt of the same black material is worn at the natural waistline, and the sleeves are three-quarter length.

Cards Played at Social Meeting

Regular monthly social meeting of the C. L. of C. was held Tuesday evening in the club rooms on north Main street. Eight tables of five hundred were in play with Mrs. H. D. Kurtzman winning high score prize. Four tables of bridge were held and prizes were won by Mrs. James Herlihy and Mrs. G. M. Risacher.

Mrs. Frank Loykovich received the door prize and Miss Adelaide Woerth was presented with a guest award. The women will have a rummage sale on Oct. 22 and 23 and the next regular meeting will take place on Oct. 20. Mrs. Edward Irwin and her committee were in charge of the Tuesday meeting.

VALENCIA CLUB.

Valencia club members were entertained by Mrs. Fred Nail at her home on West Fifth street on Tuesday. Bridge was played after the business session and prizes were won by Mrs. Roy Tressel, Mrs. Clara Sickmiller and Mrs. H. H. Ruby. Luncheon was served at the close of the card games. Hostess for the Oct. 20 meeting will be Mrs. Tressel, who lives on Hoffman avenue.

EUCHRE PLAYED.

Prizes in euchre were won by Mrs. Goldie Stafford, Mrs. C. S. Charles and Mrs. Lloyd Miller when the V-8 club was entertained Wednesday by Mrs. Allen Burger, 283 Abbeyfeale road. Guests were Mrs. Lloyd Miller and Mrs. Walter Larimore. The next meeting will be held Oct. 28 at the home of Mrs. Clarence Jolley, 266 Saxton road.

Auxiliary No. 100 Holds Meeting

Auxiliary No. 100 held their meeting in the Memorial building with the president, Edith Snyder, presiding. The regular ritualistic service was performed. Mrs. Dorothy Wilmoth reported on Red Cross work accomplished in making surgical dressings.

Hazel Brannon, department inspector, and the group will go to Butler on Tuesday, Oct. 13, to inspect the Butler Auxiliary.

The next meeting will be a dinner on Oct. 21, with Mildred Sherer, Hazel Brannon and Eunice Lamb in charge. The evening's prize was won by Mrs. Lamb.

Pinochle was played at two tables, prizes going to Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. George Mensch and Mrs. Gerald Smith. Lunch was served at tables centered with Halloween appointments. The next meeting will be on Oct. 21, at the home of Mrs. Catherine Heichel, 295 East Second street.

BOWMAN MOTHERS CLUB ENTERTAINS MEMBERS

First Aid Talk and Plans For Future Make Interesting Meeting at School Wednesday.

THE BOWMAN SCHOOL Mothers club met last night with 80 members and 23 new members present. Mrs. Don Hartig, president, presided over the business meeting. The club voted $15 toward religious education. A committee for an amendment to the constitution was appointed with Mrs. Lloyd Howell chairman, Mrs. Chester Schasky, Mrs. Kenneth Bell, and Mrs. Hartig assisting.

Plans were made for a Halloween masquerade party to be held on Oct. 28. Mrs. Don Grace is to have charge of the arrangements and her committee will be Mrs. Fred Bechtel, Mrs. C. B. Piatt, Mrs. Marie Dinges and Mrs. Roy Duffey.

An interesting talk was given by Mrs. Howard Fox on first aid. The door prize was won by Mrs. Harry Constance and the first grade was awarded the prize for having the most mothers present. Later in the evening bingo was played, and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Hartig, Mrs. Mary Willard, Mrs. Lucille Bamberger, Mrs. Fred Schnuerer, Mrs. John Bacquet, Mrs. Earl Zimmerman, Mrs. Fred Bechtel, Mrs. Lloyd Howell and Mrs. R. J. Chamberlain. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 4.

Party Given for Miss Musselman

Eleven senior graduate student nurses had a surprise kitchen shower recently in honor of Miss Mavlily Musselman, a classmate and bride-elect of Richard C. Reid, at the home of Miss Betty Edwards, 216 Rae avenue.

The honoree was led to her gifts by notes and a maze of string. Miss Musselman, who finishes her nurse's training Friday, will be married Oct. 17 at the Peace Lutheran church in Galion. The couple will make their home in Akron where the prospective bridegroom lives.

Couple Married In Church Ceremony

Miss Eileen Sheriff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Sheriff of Shiloh, was united in marriage to Foster L. Dails, son of Andrew J. Dials of 89 France street.

The wedding took place in the Pilgrim Congregational church at 4:45 on Sept. 29. Rev. R. O. Stull, pastor of the church performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Dials' wedding dress was of wine velvet with blue accessories, and her corsage was red and yellow roses. Miss Mildred Sheriff, sister of the bride served as bridesmaid. Her dress was black and white velvet with black accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. Roger Dials served as best man for his brother.

A reception was held after the wedding at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Dials will continue to live in Mansfield while her husband is serving in the army at Camp Perry.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"I didn't stage anything," Carolyn snapped, her self-control breaking.

"But," Dicky went on suavely, "if the sweet young thing in question has repented of her folly, and wishes to collaborate with us by telling what she knows, I shall keep my trap shut from now on."

"That would be an incentive to confess anything," Carolyn flared out, "but what's the use of my saying anything? You're all against me. I—I—don't want to listen."

"I am sorry," my father said inexorably, "but I'm afraid you'll have to listen. It may mean nothing to you, but I think I ought to tell you that the so-called collegiate gangster will never be able to trouble you again."

"What do you mean by that?" she said.

"Simply this," my father answered. "When, because of your foolish and criminal aid to him, he found out what train my daughter was traveling on to New York, first telephoning orders to a gunman in New York to murder her, providing he failed to secure a certain letter, my son-in-law very cleverly foiled his plot, put him off the train without his shoes, and arranged to have him picked up by the state police.

"He has been here almost ever since. He will continue to remain here until all our evidence against him and his fellow conspirators is completed.

Tells of Conspiracy.

"There is much more involved in this case, Carolyn," my father went on, while the girl's face whitened by the second, "than Marion's kidnaping, heinous as that crime is. This man is involved in a conspiracy against the government. His punishment is likely to be death, or at least life imprisonment.

"But—he paused impressively, "and this is what concerns you most—there will be no chance for him ever to reveal anything he knows about you or Marion, or anything he is holding over your heads. His lips are as sealed from now on as if they were already silenced by death."

"O-o-oh!" Carolyn shrieked, and I could not tell whether the exclamation was one of extreme horror or relieved, joyous exultation. And she slumped to the floor in what looked to be an authentic swoon.

Girl Not Faking.

Miss Whitlock and I were at her side in an instant, and my father's voice addressed the nurse.

"A genuine swoon, or a fake?" he asked.

"This is the real thing, but it isn't serious. She'll come out of it shortly."

My father snatched the telephone from its hook. "Bring one of those emergency cots down here immediately, Gus," he barked into it and hung it up.

"Richard, will you go to the trap door and help Gus haul it down?" he asked. "I don't want Gus to come down here."

Dicky hurried to the stairs leading to the trap door I remembered well, then my father asked the nurse:

"Is there anything else you need? The emergency cot is complete, with mattress, clean linen and blankets, all ready to receive a patient."

"That is splendid," the nurse replied, watching Carolyn closely while she worked over her. "I shall be glad to have a place to put her, and I need nothing else except what I have in my kit. She is coming around now."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BY

Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

JUST LIKE AN HONOR

Making your opponent use up two honors to take one trick is the usual reason for "covering an honor with an honor." That is unsound advice in many cases, as it should not be followed except in a situation where it promises to build up an extra trick for yourself or your partner in the suit, or to spoil the opponent's timing or entry situation. But there are times when it should be carried still farther, by covering a card which is lower than an honor.

	♠ 6 5 2 ♥ 7 4 ♦ A K J 6 2 ♣ A Q 9
♠ Q 9 7 4 ♥ K 9 6 ♦ Q 7 5 3 ♣ 8 5	N W E S	♠ J 8 3 ♥ 10 8 3 2 ♦ 8 4 ♣ K J 10 6
	♠ A K 10 ♥ A Q J 5 ♦ 10 9 ♣ 7 4 3 2

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

West had two reasons for leading his club 8. One was that he knew South as an inveterate devotee of a club bid to open hands in which he had no particular club holding. The other was that he did not like to open away from his honors in the other three suits. The whole story would have worked out differently if the 9 had been called from dummy, but South put on the Q, and the K won it. Striving to kill the diamond suit by eliminating its side entry, East returned the club J, which won, and then the 6 to force the A.

South came to his hand with the spade A and led the diamond 9. West decided that, if his partner had the 10, it would do him no good to cover, as the 10 would be in too short a suit, so he ducked. Then the 10 to the J, the K and A settled the Q, making a total of seven tricks so far for the declarer, and he completed his game with the spade K and heart A.

West could have beaten that by covering the diamond 9, which would have forced the K. The A and J would have been good then, but the 7 would have thus become the high diamond. With only three tricks in that suit, South probably would have tried the heart finesse, losing to the K. The diamond 7 could then have been scored by West, who would have had a safe exit with his spade 4 to the J and K. The defenders could then wait for the setting trick, as South could not score more than a total of eight.

Tomorrow's Problem.

What is the correct defense on this deal against South's 5-Diamonds?

HOROSCOPE

FOR FRIDAY, OCT. 9

Although romantic and dramatic adventures seem to continue, according to the joyous astral influences, yet there may be a tendency to confused thinking, impulsive or erratic actions by way of reaction from the previous emotional tensity. Otherwise there may be exceptional business financial or productive stimulus that may concern public or community interests.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a happy and dramatic year, with romance and adventure in the air. Friendship and social prestige are due to enhance the position, financial credit and standing. Real possessions may increase. But beware vague, confused and erratic moves.

A child born on this day should have a romantic and adventurous life, with financial success.

- ½ tsp. pepper
- ½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce

(The enrichment of Pillsbury's Best with two B-vitamins and iron has not changed its creamy-white color, its mellow, wheaty flavor or the perfect way it works in all your recipes.)

1. Pan-fry onions and green pepper in 2 Tbsps. of the butter until tender. 2. Add to combined meat, carrots, peas, and corn. 3. Melt the remaining 6 Tbsps. of butter and add flour. 4. Add liquids gradually; cook until thick; stir constantly. 5. Add seasonings, meat, and vegetables. Simmer until hot. 6. Turn into 2-quart casserole, ready for topping:

The perfect Pillsbury topping:

- 1½ c. sifted PILLSBURY'S BEST Enriched Flour
- 2½ tsps. baking powder (or 1½ tsps. double acting)
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 3 Tbsps. shortening
- ½ c. chopped stuffed olives
- ⅔ Tbsps. milk (about)

(What a pleasure—and what an economy—to know that the flour which gives you such delectably tender, flaky biscuit will also make perfect cakes, cookies, pastry, and bread! For Pillsbury's Best is a truly all-purpose flour. And it's truly dependable, too, for it's BAKE-PROVED before you ever buy it—pretested by actual baking tests made 4 to 6 times a day during milling!).

1. Sift flour once, measure; add baking powder and salt; sift again. 2. Cut in shortening till mixture is like coarse meal. Add olives, mix. 3. Add milk, stir till all flour is dampened. 4. Roll out ½ in. thick on lightly floured board. 5. Cut in diamond shapes; place on hot mixture. 6. Bake in hot oven (375° F.) about 40 minutes.

Galion Seeking Giant New Water Storage Reservoir

GALION—The reservoir being planned by the city of Galion to alleviate possible water shortage will allow for a possible 75,000,000 to 80,000,000 gallon water storage according to plans submitted to the State Department of Health.

Paul A. Uhlmann, of Columbus, engineer has submitted the plans to the department for approval, and has filed a report with the city in which it is estimated that the cost of the development will be $200,000, including a water treatment plant of purify and soften the water.

Incorporating the present water works system as well the proposed reservoir would be within the present 100-acre limits of the Hurley farm on County Line road. From the survey made it has been learned that the stream which passes through the farm drains 7,000 acres, or 11¼ square miles.

One of the earliest botanic gardens was at Karnak Egypt, in 1500 B. C.

Manville to Wed Sixth Time

Tommy Manville, the New York playboy, is going to be married again, the sixth time. The bride-to-be is Wilhelmina "Billy" Boze, a 20-year-old showgirl as were many of his ex-wives. Manville and Miss Boze are shown at New Rochelle, N. Y., where they applied for a marriage license.

WIFE OBJECTS

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — (UP) — When cowboy musician Jack D. Hogg gave a $10 bill to his horse to eat and a $5 bill to his wife Mrs. Viola L. Hogg, the latter asked for a divorce.

"It just didn't make horse sense," she told Judge William S. Baird who granted her decree with alimony.

GETS SUGAR CARD

PASADENA, Cal. — (UP) — Baby Daniels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Daniels, believes she is the youngest person in the United States to have been issued a sugar ration card. It was issued just two hours after she was born and before her parents had had time to find a name for her.

LOANS FOR EMPLOYED WOMEN

We're addressing any employed woman in this community who has a problem which cash can solve.

Borrowing money is never wise if it means making difficulties worse . . . but there are certain circumstances in which a well-planned loan is the best way to get out of debt many times. Obligations which seem discouraging when added up in a lump can be paid off comfortably when broken down into monthly payments. And when ready cash isn't available for needed medical or dental work, clothing, for training which will increase one's earning power—then a loan is also common-sense.

Here at Personal Finance Company we specialize in serving women. If you need cash—$10 to $250 or more—we'll see that you get it without embarrassment or delay, without involving your friends or employer and without the need for putting up special security. We make loans on just your own signature—because we have found that business women, in this community, honor their obligations.

There is no difficulty in handling monthly payments on a loan here. For example,

$7.53 a Month Repays a $75 Loan in 12 Months

If you need cash, we'll be glad to serve you. Special quick service during lunch hour. Come in or phone then if that's best for you. It will be a pleasure to serve you.

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

Miss Midnight's Notebook.

Manhattan Glitter: Arlene Whelan, the prettiest redhead in town. . . . Gracie Martin, the showgirl, sporting the season's first full-length chinchilla. . . . Edgar Bergen strolling into the Stage Door Canteen — without Charlie. . . . Schiaparelli, the fashion princess, stooging for Fred Keating at the Ruban Bleu. . . . Joan Fontaine, looking as lovely as her screen image—which is quite a trick! . . . Morton Downey giving Connie Bennett an affectionate greeting in the lobby of the Savoy Plaza. . . . Pat O'Brien, who played Father Duffy in "The Fighting 69th," chatting with the Father Duffy Canteen girls at Madison Square Garden. . . . Joan Blondell in Hollywood tan and red sequins.

Kilgallen

A Stone's Throw From Broadway: Wynn Murray, who has dropped more than 100 pounds by a diet of many months, had a harrowing experience at Leon and Eddie's the other night. It was her birthday, and the boys presented her with a sumptuous whipped-cream-and-frosting affair; so Wynn had to cut slices of it for everybody else, and pass it up herself. You could almost see the tears in her eyes. . . . Vincent Youmans dropped into Ciro's to ask Jerry Kirkland to do "Tea For Two." Jerry was the first person to sing the classic after Youmans wrote it, many seasons ago, in Cincinnati. . . . Zasu Pitts, making the bright spots look chic—not fluttery.

Fables From The Fifties: It's hard to be a good sport when you're heart broken, but there's one little dancer on Broadway who made the grade this week, a girl named Miriam LaVelle. She'd been practising for weeks to dance at the Army Relief show. "We're All In It," and on the night of the benefit she came in makeup and her best costume, ready to appear before the biggest and most important audience of her lifetime. Anything might happen, with an audience like that—a producer might see her, maybe it might mean a Broadway show, maybe she'd get a movie offer.

After she had waited for two hours she was told she couldn't go on—there were too many other "big names" from Hollywood and the theater who had to do their acts.

Miriam didn't sulk or cry, although she must have felt like crying. She just went out among the spectators and joined the AWVS workers and helped them sell more than a million dollars' worth of bonds to the crowd.

All Around the Town: Dorothy Lamour has taken unto herself a protege — a young hairdresser named Wayne Forrest. Dottie tells us that he can sing as well as he can swirl, and she's promised to land him a job in a local night club if she possibly can. . . . Before the Washington opening of "This Is the Army," Pvt. Alan Manson, who impersonates Jane Cowl in the show got a wire that he treasures. It said: "Love to you from your double. Have a triumphant tour. Jane Cowl." . . . The town's most wonderful waiter is unquestionably the fellow at Jack Dempsey's who hates swing music. So much so that while the MacFarland Twins or Milt Herth's trio are beating out the jive, this character wears earmuffs and just gingerly lifts one off for seconds at a time to see what the customers will have.

Faces In Places: Eddie Duchin, looking soooo divine in his navy uniform, at the ringside of the Copacabana . . . Sara Allen, the singer, who bought a pair of minks on that "grow your own fur coat" plan a couple of years ago—and is adding vitamins A, B, C, D and G to their diet so she can have a fur jacket by Christmas. . . . Zorita, whose snake frightened Margie Hart when he came too close for a good peek at the flame-haired stripper. . . . Gail Patrick, with colored feathers in her hair. . . . George Jessel in a quiet tete-a-tete with Norma Talmadge during the cocktail hour at the Savoy-Plaza. . . . The Philip Barrys, domestic-looking couple, playing gin rummy at the Monte Carlo Casino. . . . The Samba Sirens attending Don Loper and Maxine Barrat's performance at Loew's State—the cutest upsweep-headed row in town!

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—After the war Bette Davis' pink-and-white portable dressing room may be itself again.

It's always looked just like what a movie star's dressing room ought to look like — dressing table with brilliant lights, wardrobe with garment-laden hangers, comfortable couch, all very pretty.

Coons

It doesn't any more. It's just another office on wheels.

Bette is on the Hollywood Victory committee, which tells stars where to go to entertain soldiers, sell bonds and generally further the war work. She's practically the mama of the Hollywood Canteen (modeled after New York's Stage Door Canteen) and she also has organized and equipped—and manages—a smaller Armed Services Canteen. She's not what you'd call the garden party type, but she got up a colossal one to raise funds for the Hollywood Guild and the Canteen.

All this went on while she was re-decorating her house and making a movie and studying the maps for several bond-selling tours of her own.

So the pretty dressing-room now has a desk. It's cluttered with papers and scrawled notes, telephone numbers and pencils—and a telephone, which is very unusual for dressing rooms. Bette goes before the cameras, acts her part with her usual fearful intensity, then hurries back to her telephone and note pad.

Meantime, an expert secretary, Mrs. Bridget Price, a lady with a wonderful British accent and an alarming flair for efficiency, operates for Bette at home, and Kempy, Bette's college-trained maid, takes messages and makes appointments on the set. Among the three of them, they think up many things that ought to be done, and do them.

You won't believe it, but Sidney Lanfield swears it happened . . . The other morning his manager called on his "Meanest Man" set and Sidney wrote a check for $10,000—insurance policy—plus a check for Lanfield's state income tax payment. During the day he dished out $5,000 so he could attend one of the war bond premieres, dug in for four charities, and wound up being prevailed upon to underwrite shoes and shirts for one of the studio's bowling teams.

Just before day's end, he saw a studio personage approaching. Scenting a cash collector at 50 paces, he yelled: "If you're after money, stay away! I'm cleaned!"

The gentleman whipped out a list. "What I want," he said ominously, "you've got."

"And what is that?" demanded Lanfield weakly.

"A pint of blood. Red Cross bank, you know."

Fight Over State Spending Gets Hotter

MINERS BREAK WITH CIO AFTER LEWIS SPEECH

56-Minute Address Results In Break; Murray and Green Offer No Comment.

BULLETIN

CINCINNATI — (U.P.) — The United Mine Workers of America, today approved without a dissenting vote the action of the UMW's executive board in ousting CIO President Philip Murray as a vice president of the miner's union.

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI—The United Mine Workers of America marched away from the Congress of Industrial Organizations today, still steadfastly obeying the wishes of their leader for 22 years, John L. Lewis.

Once more Lewis had quelled vocal opposition to a policy set forth by the union's officers, once more his oratory had turned opponents into wildly demonstrating supporters.

In a 56-minute speech climaxing debate late yesterday on the question of withdrawal from the CIO, Lewis again squelched reports he might step down from the UMW presidency.

He didn't say he might quit. He declared: "If you do not adopt this report (recommending withdrawal), then you do not want a man like me as your president. You want a man with more rabbit in him than I've got."

He asserted there was no use to talk of unity between the UMW and the CIO because "there can be no unity unless your adversary wants it." He added the CIO rejected peace talk offers last winter.

Philip Murray, now CIO president, who was ousted last May as UMW vice president, declined comment in Pittsburgh last night.

(At the American Federation of Labor convention in Toronto, President William Green said he did not regard the UMW action as having "any effect" on the peace negotiations of the AFL and the CIO scheduled for next month.

(He expressed surprise that both Murray and emissaries of Lewis had been reported in Toronto and denied that AFL leaders planned to meet with either. Delgats speculated that the UMW might be planning to return to the AFL.)

Lewis reiterated his contention that the CIO, which he founded, owed $1,665,00 to the UMW on loans granted for CIO organization expenses.

But, he added, "the CIO has been out to destroy district 50. Organizers are raiding local unions.

"Do you want to pay dues to an organization and have it use the money to destroy your union? I sometimes wonder how much some of our members will take."

The UMW stopped paying per capita tax to the CIO last spring.

ISSUES REPORT

Roof Inspector Says 56 Acres Drains Into Sewers.

There are 56.62 acres of Mansfield roofs now being drained into storm sewers, according to a report submitted today to Mayor W. J. Locke by Ray E. Hines, roof drainage inspector.

This represents 2,166,582 square feet of roof surface on 3,036 homes or other buildings, according to the report. In a survey several years ago it was shown that 2,916 places were training rainwater into the sanitary sewer systems of the city, creating a tremendous overload.

Following his appointment as inspector, Hines found 120 other places were similarly drained. His continued survey shows, according to today's report, 69 not connected with the sanitary system and that 1,424 changes have been made in accordance with the latest city legislation on the subject.

DOCTOR INDICTED

Physician Accused of Issuing Illegal Dope Prescription.

TOLEDO —(U.P.)— A federal grand jury today indicted Dr. Elmer E. Burns, 80, Kirby, physician, on three counts of illegal issuance of narcotic prescriptions.

Burns was indicted on charges of writing false narcotic prescriptions for Merriett E. Martin and Bud Laney, arrested at Findlay and Claude W. Ayers and Lena Ayers, arrested at Carey.

BYRNES ENTERS NEW OES POST

Takes Oath, Names Members of Board; Will Rank as Member of Cabinet.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — James F. Byrnes, who gave up a lifetime job on the supreme court to become director of economic stabilization, assumed today a status equivalent to that of a cabinet member.

Byrnes took the oath of office for his new position at the White House late yesterday, and learned for the first time that his salary would be $15,000 a year. That is $5,000 less than he received as an associate justice.

Like Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, Byrnes expected to attend cabinet meetings. He was sworn in just after announcing that President Roosevelt had appointed the last six members of a 14-man board which will help him control the economy of an entire nation for the duration of the war, with the objective of holding down living costs and preventing inflation.

Two representatives each from labor, agriculture and management accepted membership on the board. They were Labor: Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and William Green, president of the AFL.

Agriculture: Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and James G. Patton, president of the Farmers' Cooperative union.

Management: Ralph E. Flanders, president of the Jones & Lamson Machine company, Springfield, Vt., and Eric A. Johnson, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

TWO INJURED IN PLANE'S CRASH

Coastal Patrol Craft Smashed Up In Take-off.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Two airmen were injured seriously today when a civil coastal patrol plane crashed at St. Simon island, Georgia, just after taking off from an air field.

The pair, Pilot Jenkins and Observer Weakland, was rushed to a local hospital, the Eastern defense command of the First army announced in making known the air mishap.

Cause of the accident has not been determined, said the announcement.

TONY GETS STAY

Famed Movie Horse Given Brief Reprieve From Death.

HOLLYWOOD—(U.P.)—Tony, the horse which Tom Mix rode to fame, enjoyed a brief reprieve from death today.

Ivon Parker, Hollywood attorney to whom Tony was left by the late cowboy star, planned to have the aging horse, now 40 years old and badly crippled, given a mercy death by a veterinarian yesterday. He postponed the action because he could not arrange for a taxidermist to mount the hide for preservation among curios collected by Mix.

HEADS RESTAURATEURS

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Vernon B. Stouffer, president of the Stouffer corporation, was announced today as the newly elected president of the National Restaurant association at the annual meeting of that organization in Chicago.

'MOST INTERESTING MAN IN AMERICA' TO TALK IN CITY

Called "the most interesting man in America . . . the man who put the sizzle into selling," Elmer Wheeler, comes to Mansfield Oct. 15 to speak at the John Simpson auditorium under the auspices of the Mansfield Junior Association of Commerce.

Wheeler is on his regular fall tour of the country coming here from a Cleveland Rotary club meeting and is scheduled to speak in other Ohio cities including Lorain, Akron and Canton.

As founder of Tested Selling Institute and sales psychology consultant for such firms as duPont, Hotel Statler, Johns-Manville, American Airlines, International Silver, R. H. Macy, Texaco company, J. C. Penney, Western Union company and many others, Wheeler says, "It's the sizzle that sells it."

Wheeler claims to be the man who made square clothes pins popular. Square clothes pin can't roll. Therefore, "They won't roll" was the "sizzle" he found to sell that type of clothes pins. Millions were sold to housewives weary of chasing round ones.

Wheeler says, "Don't ask if, ask which." When a customer has the choice, for instance, of one or two eggs in his milk shake, he'll usually say one, but Wheeler points out that answer rings up an extra nickle, whereas had the waiter asked if the customer wanted an egg the chances are that he wouldn't have wanted either.

Such sayings as "It won't rub off" for white shoe polish, "Have you ever tried the scientific toothbrush?" and "How would you like to cut your shaving time in half" are some of the better known selling lines originated by Wheeler.

Tickets for the program beginning at 8:15 may be obtained from members of the Junior Association of Commerce, at the Chamber of Commerce or Tawse's pharmacy.

BOY, 2, KILLED

Galion Child Dies When Hit By Auto Near Home.

GALION — Larry Cutshall, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darius Cutshall was instantly killed on Jefferson street in front of his parents' home last night when he was struck by an automobile driven by A. L. Green, 74, Galion.

Green told police he had not seen the child but believed the boy ran into the side of the automobile from behind a parked car. Green was not held.

Surviving besides the parents are three sisters, Betty, Jane, and Jeannette and two brothers, Glenn and Vernon, all at home, and two grandparents, John Cutshall, Columbus, and Clarence Court, Galion.

Rev. Carl V. Roop, pastor of the United Brethren church, will conduct funeral services at the Snyder funeral home Saturday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

NAMED AS C. O.

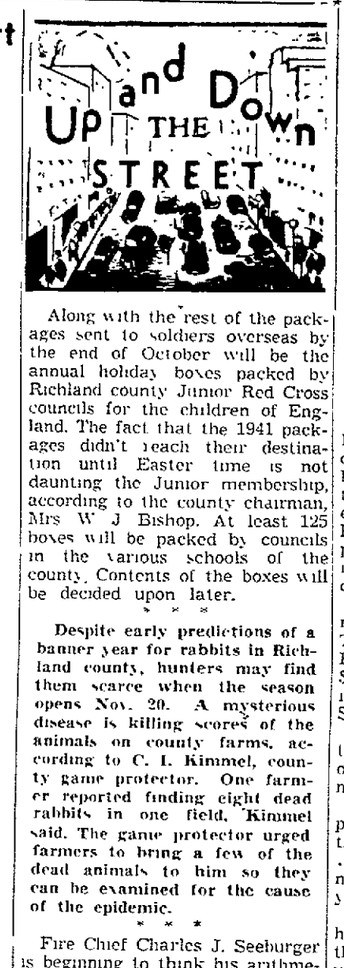
Col. Brownfield Put In Charge At Wright Field.

DAYTON—(INS)—Col. Ralph O. Brownfield, by direction of President Roosevelt, has been selected as commanding officer at Wright field, succeeding Col. George L. Usher, who has been transferred to an unannounced station.

Col. Brownfield had been stationed at Wright field since Sept. 5, 1939.

Laff-a-Day

"It's been our experience that alarm clocks sent to boys in the service usually come back for change."



Along with the rest of the packages sent to soldiers overseas by the end of October will be the annual holiday boxes packed by Richland county Junior Red Cross councils for the children of England. The fact that the 1941 packages didn't reach their destination until Easter time is not daunting the Junior membership, according to the county chairman, Mrs. W. J. Bishop. At least 125 boxes will be packed by councils in the various schools of the county. Contents of the boxes will be decided upon later.

Despite early predictions of a banner year for rabbits in Richland county, hunters may find them scarce when the season opens Nov. 20. A mysterious disease is killing scores of the animals on county farms, according to C. I. Kimmel, county game protector. One farmer reported finding eight dead rabbits in one field, Kimmel said. The game protector urged farmers to bring a few of the dead animals to him so they can be examined for the cause of the epidemic.

Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger is beginning to think his arithmetic is faulty in calculating manpower of his department although he admits the whole thing might be "war economy mathmatics" on the part of Mayor W. J. Locke and Service-Safety Director Fred B. Wolff. The chief wants an additional fireman. He's concluded its "no dice" until the city civil service commission conducts an examination for a captaincy vacated by resignation of Leo Salzgaber. Clarence Lurz has the status of acting captain, but at the fireman's pay rate. Addition of a fireman now would not exceed the personnel or appropriation requirements, Seeburger says, but it becomes evident that so long as the appointment of a captain can be delayed, that long will the higher-ups save the difference in pay between the two grades.

Can you remember when there was a skating rink at 40 West Fourth street, with music afternoon and evening? During their salvage collection last week, Boy Scouts of Troop 4 brought in an old-time galvanized iron waste paper container. And on one side read, "Roller Skating Rink, music afternoon and eve.—40 W. Fourth St." When Scout Executive Floyd Dent saw this he amusedly wondered how many residents could remember the old rink and recall that it had burned down some 30 years ago.

BOOT RULING

Those Wanting to Buy Them or Rubber Shoes Must Get OK.

Under present rationing regulations all persons who want to buy men's rubber boots or shoes for work purposes must appear before the War Price and Rationing board in the Farmers' Bank building and obtain certificates of purchase, James Bailey, executive secretary of the board said today.

All stocks of men's rubber boots and shoes were frozen by the government Sept. 29 and released for sale under rationing regulations, Oct. 5, Bailey said.

He also asked that parents or guardians of all men now serving with the armed forces return sugar rationing books belonging to the service men to the ration board.

MORE AT WORK

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Cleveland's employment still is skyrocketing.

The U. S. employment office here placed 8,402 persons—2,512 of them women—in jobs during September, Manager B. C. Seiple reported. This represented a 42 per cent increase over the corresponding month last year.

DEM AND GOP FIGURES HURL NEW CHARGES

Finance Director Replies To Ferguson; McSweeney Joins In Bricker Attack.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—John McSweeney, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, today accused Gov. John W. Bricker of spending "more money than any other (Ohio) governor ever did in three years," but a Republican spokesman claimed part of the increased costs were inherited from the previous Democratic administration.

In a formal statement commenting on State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's report that the Bricker administration spent $339,817,296 for an all-time high in state government costs, McSweeney asserted:

"It cost Ohio 825 million dollars to operate in the last three years of Gov. (Martin L.) Davey's administration.

"The economy program of the present administration cost, in three years, 950 million dollars . . . more than any other governor ever did (spend) in three years."

Ferguson, a Democrat, said in his annual report yesterday that the Bricker administration last year spent $70,500,000 more than the Davey administration in 1938, but State Finance Director Herbert D. Defenbacher declared the extra money went for additional services and to pay inherited debts.

Defenbacher said a $2,000,000 general fund deficit inherited from the Davey administration had been liquidated under Gov. Bricker and that the 1938 school foundation deficit of $18,327,000 had been cut to $6,254,000.

Defenbacher said increased costs of services in 1941 over 1938 totaled $69,650,000. He listed these increases as follows.

Old age pensions $8,300,000; poor relief $1,500,000; schools $10,450,000, local governments $10,000,000; gross operation of liquor department $20,400,000; subsidies to operate state departments $9,000,000, and highways $10,000,000

McSweeney's formal statement asserted Gov. Bricker's campaign for re-election to a third term "was knocked into a cocked hat by the annual report of the auditor."

Fined $250 for Interfering With Workmen's Sleep

NEW YORK —(INS)— The right to sleep—especially if one is a war worker—was recognized by the courts today.

Magistrate Anthony P. Savarese in Long Island City, N. Y., court fined the Frederick J. Valentine, Inc., war plant $250 for violating the anti-noise law.

Counsel for the company called attention to the war emergency but the court held that even a war plant can't be indiscriminate about making noise 24 hours a day if it interferes with the sleep of others.

"Our boys across the seas need everything we can produce," Savarese declared, "but on the other hand, such work must be done within reasonable limits so that other war workers can get rest."

ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH AT 83

Mrs. Elizabeth Harsha, Succumbs At General Hospital.

LOUDONVILLE — Mrs. Elizabeth Harsha, 83, died yesterday at Mansfield General where she had been a patient for two weeks.

Although her home was at Hillsboro she spent her winters with her daughter, Mrs. R. F. McMullen in Loudonville. Surviving besides the daughter are one son, Paul, of Hillsboro, 11 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. at Hillsboro and burial will be made there.

500 GRADUATE

Newly Trained Aircraft Workers Finish Courses.

TOLEDO — (AP) — More than 500 "tailor-made" aircraft workers—each an expert on a specific job—will be graduated monthly from the streamlined school developed here by the new aircraft division of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., it was announced today.

Joseph W. Frazer, president, said the school is designed to offset the growing shortage of skilled labor in the aircraft field.

ADMITS EMBEZZLEMENT

CANTON —(AP)— Former City Treasurer Walter A. Baum pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with embezzling $17,241 in city funds and then applied for probation. A hearing will be held on his request.

FIRST BUCYRUS WAVE LEAVES FOR TRAINING

Jean Whittaker Goes to Post In Oklahoma; WAAC Member to Depart Soon.

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus' first WAAC'S and WAVES today began going to their stations.

Leaving early this morning, Miss Jean Whittaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Whittaker, West Mary street, will take a four months course in secretarial work at Oklahoma City as a member of the WAVES. Miss Whittaker is one of 14 accepted for enrollment from Ohio. She has been employed in Cleveland for the last two years in the U. S. Internal Revenue offices. She is a Bucyrus High school and Tiffin Business college graduate and before going to Cleveland was employed as a secretary at the Shunk Manufacturing company here.

Soon to leave with the WAAC'S is Miss Clara Ghist, daughter of Mrs. James Ghist, 1009 Elm street, who will bring the number of members of the Ghist family in the service to four. Two brothers are in the army and a third is a member of the U. S. marines.

Miss Ghist also has been working in Cleveland, transferring there with other Kaynee employes when the factory moved its plant from Bucyrus a year ago. She received her oath in Columbus last week.

GALION FACULTY COMPLETE AGAIN

Teacher, Assistant in Office of Superintendent Are Hired By Board.

GALION — With the appointment of Kathryn Harris of Carlisle, Ind., the Galion high school teaching faculty is again complete. Superintendent M. A. Povenmire announced Wednesday that Miss Harris has been hired to fill the vacancy created by the entrance of Ruthanna Maxwell into the WAVES two weeks ago. She will serve as instructor of Spanish, English and dramatics.

Coming to Galion from Carlisle high school, Miss Harris has had 24 years of teaching experience, and received her bachelor's degree from Indiana State Teachers college, her master's degree from Columbia university.

Another appointment made by the board of education was that of Jane Angle of Warsaw, as the assistant secretary in the superintendent's office. Miss Angle replaces Violet Hart who resigned Thursday.

No appointment has been made, Povenmire said, for the position of janitor at the North school building, to replace Roland Ireland, who resigned to take an industrial position.

At the junior high school Mrs. Russell Gledhill has been appointed to succeed Nellie Hardin as third grade teacher. Miss Hardin will teach fifth grade, succeeding Wallace Heter who resigned the first week of school to accept a position in Somerset. Mrs. Gledhill attended Ashland college and taught two years at both the south and west buildings.

IT'S A RECORD!

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus has recorded more births during the first nine months this year than were registered during the entire year of 1938, which has been considered the last "normal" year by statisticians.

Births so far this year total 331 as compared with 192 during all of 1938. Of this year's births, six pairs of twins have been born since May 30.

ODOROUS JOB

Bucyrus Firemen Put Out Fire In Carload of Sulphur.

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus firemen can tell you all about sulphur fumes. Wednesday the U. R. railroad tower called asking the aid of the department in extinguishing a blaze in a carload of sulphur, moving toward Bucyrus from the west on the Pennsylvania main line track.

Trailing a stream of blue burning sulphur along the right away, the train was brought to a stop in the city and the car thrown on a siding where water was thrown on the hot steel car to cool it before opening the door.

Damage was confined to one corner of the load. The car was not damaged. The fire was believed by Fire Chief Mader to have started from a burning ember from the engine.

ATTENDS MEET

BUCYRUS — H. E. Kiess is spending 10 days in Naperville, Ill., attending the quadrennial general conference of the Evangelical church, one of 14 laymen of the group of 28 pastors and laymen from Ohio to attend.

This is the ninth conference that Mr. Kiess has attended. He is treasurer of a number of conference funds.

WOMEN POSE NEW PROBLEMS IN ARMY DIET

Feminine Appetites Cause Army Officers To Scratch Heads.

(By United Press)

DES MOINES, Ia. — Planning menus to please the palate of 440 women is the job facing army mess officers at Fort Des Moines, Ia.

Members of the Women's Auxiliary Army corps and the problem of feminine appetities is causing the officers from Fort Riley, Kan., to scratch their heads.

Accustomed to planning menus for army men doing field work, the officers have not yet decided the daily amount of calories the women will receive through their diet.

Army men doing field work require about 4,000 calories daily Mess-officer Capt. John McSweeney said. He added that "my observation has been that women are dainters eaters than men," but how much dainter when doing men's work was the question.

Master Sergeant H. S. Decker estimated that about 2,700 calories daily would be enough for the women.

The WAAC's will receive "no marshmallows" for their daily fare, one officer commented. Capt. McSweeney said that "we'll absolutely cook to please them."

The mess-officer from Fort Riley and Sergeant Decker, senior instructor in the school for bakers and cooks, will select occupational cooks and butchers from the WAAC personnel after the training period begins. McSweeney said that he thought the meals would be prepared by WAAC cooks after Jan. 1.

Commenting on the question of figure control in the first women's army, McSweeney warned that "if they want to diet, it's up to them, but they probably won't survive the camp if they diet too strenuously."

"Since they will be doing men's work," the captain said, " the women's appetites may surprise us."

Men in the armed forces like a daily ice-cream ration, the captain said. He indicated that he would like to serve the same daily dessert to women, but it was suggested that the WAAC's might tire of ice-cream.

The mess-officer was also wondering if the women would like lamb on the mess table, a food item which army men generally ignore, according to McSweeney.

Though the captain and the sergeant are open to suggestions as to what might tickle the dietary fancy of the women soldiers, they plan a check on food left on plates after the first meals are served. This, and the attitude of the WAAC's themselves, will give an answer to the problem, the officers feel.

Some of the menus which the captain and the sergeant have planned for WAAC's during heavy-duty follow:

Breakfast: oranges, milk, cereal, fried potatoes, fried eggs, toast, butter, coffee, cream; or, apples, milk, cereal, french toast, egg omelet, toast, butter, tomato juice, coffee, and cream.

Dinner: vegetable soup, baked beans, buttered carrots, lettuce salad, apple pie, hot corn bread, hot rolls, butter, coffee, cream; or, vegetable soup, croutons, roast lamb with celery dressing, mashed potatoes, gravy, lettuce salad, escalloped corn, buttered lima beans, rolls, rice pudding with raisins, coffee, cream.

Supper: barbecued spareribs, mashed potatoes, sauerkraut, gravy, stuffed celery, fruit cocktail, bread, butter, coffee, cream; or, veal stew, browned potatoes, baked beans salad, pickled beets, peach cobbler, bread, butter, coffee, cream.

RUSSIAN TANKS CRACK GERMAN LINES IN NORTH

Relief Drive Gains Ground, Soviets Reported Holding In Stalingrad.

In the central Caucasus, Russian headquarters acknowledged a Red army withdrawal for the second day in succession in the Mozdok area, 50 miles north of the Grozny oil fields.

Along the Black sea coast, in the northwest Caucasus, the Russian command said two battalions of Rumanian infantry newly moved into battle had been "surrounded and annihilated" in a two-day fight below Novorossisk.

On the New Guinea front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters left no doubt that the Japanese threat to Port Moresby had been smashed for the present and characterized the enemy troops as exhausted.

"The enemy, as we expected, has discovered his supply problems, aggravated by constant air attacks, were impossible of immediate solution," a communique said.

At the same time, Gen. MacArthur noted that "almost insuperable complications in maintenance of supply lines" also were slowing down Australian troops and raised the question of how far they might attempt to pursue the retreating Japanese.

Latest reports said the Australians were pushing through the mile-high gap in the Owen Stanley mountains, still without sighting the Japanese.

Australia's army minister, Francis Forde, returning from a visit to the front with high praise for Allied troops, said the men plow through mud "sometimes knee-deep, pick their way through a tangled mass of jungle creepers and vines, and scale precipitous mountain tracks which even mules cannot climb—all while carrying equipment."

Japs Abandon Two Aleutian Islands

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Blasted by American sea and air power, the Japanese appeared today to have fled from two of the three western Aleutian islands they occupied nine months ago and were undergoing heavy bombardment on their remaining foothold.

Probably realizing they had blundered into what a naval spokesman termed a "rat trap," enemy forces have disappeared from the western-most island of Attu and nearby Agattu with losses thus far totalling 38 ships sunk or damaged and 40 planes destroyed.

The navy reported no signs of Japanese activity on either island had been detected for several weeks. The enemy's lone remaining base, the island of Kiska, thus drew the concentrated fire of U. S. bombing planes.

Presumably operating from their new Andreanof island base, army Liberator bombers with fighter escorts dumped explosives and incendiaries on the Japanese Kiska encampment Monday, scoring hits on seaplane hangars.

Six enemy seaplane fighters which counter-attacked were shot down, and all the American aircraft, escaping what the navy termed "only light anti-aircraft opposition," returned to their base.

The enemy's occupation of Kiska was regarded in naval circles as increasingly peopardized, not only because the new American base is but 125 nautical miles away but because of the approach of bitter winter weather.

Nipponese invasion of the islands opened with the bombing of Dutch Harbor, June 3, a day before the battle of Midway.

Nazis Hit Hard By Allies In Egypt

CAIRO—(AP)—United States fighter pilots escorted RAF fighters-bombers on a raid behind the German lines yesterday, part of an exceptionally heavy air blasting of the enemy, it was disclosed today.

On 12 trips over enemy territory during the day, the RAF was said to have caused heavy damage to German airports, convoys and troop concentrations.

SOLDIER HELD

Private Questioned in Slaying of Judge's Daughter.

BASTROP, Tex.—(AP)—Col. L. A. Kurtz, post commander at Camp Swift, announced today an army private was being held in connection with the slaying of Lucy Maynard, 8, daughter of County Judge and Mrs. C. B. Maynard.

The child was found beaten, scratched and bruised in a farm ravine yesterday.

SEARCH HOMES OF NORWEGIANS

made among persons found to be hiding or transporting arms.

Norwegian guerrillas operating in the key Narvik area, just above the Arctic circle, were reported to have rescued a group of Russian war prisoners in a daring attack on a German base.

It was reported that large stores of arms had been seized in Oslo.

A Norwegian government spokesman expressed belief that the Germans had organized a deliberate terror campaign in an attempt to break Norwegian resistance, but said the plan was due to fear of an Allied invasion.

Advices were that among the patriots arrested were men charged with transporting or hiding weapons and organizing sniper units to aid any Allied landing.

Further, it was said, the Gestapo suspected the Norwegian government in exile here of financing the patriot underground organization.

Swedish newspapers openly sided with the Norwegians and called the execution of patriots obviously acts of terrorism.

There were increasingly plain signs throughout German occupied Europe of sullen Nazi anger and frustration.

Germany was expected to impose harsh new demands on Denmark this week on the ground that its government and its people had not been sufficiently subservient.

In France the Germans executed 17 more patriots, in Jugoslavia 80, in Czechoslovakia 21.

From the Netherlands came reports that the Germans had declared a string of islands along the coast a forbidden zone as an anti-invasion precaution.

LET TODAY'S PUPILS WALK AS GRANDPA DID, EASTMAN URGES

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Father and grandpa walked to school and there's no reason why today's younger generation can't do the same.

So ruled Defense Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman today. He asked state and local authorities to revise school bus schedules on the premise that the physically able child can walk two miles to and from school daily "as his father and grandfather did before him."

That was one of several conservation measures which he said must be adopted to assure maintenance this winter of the school transportation system which serves some 4,000,000 boys and girls. He also said that:

School bus service should be discontinued where rail or regular public service is available.

Fewer stops should be made even though pupils are required to walk reasonable distances to board their bus.

Local regulatory bodies should relax regulations so that older students may stand in buses if their safety is not endangered.

School hours should be staggered on a community-wide basis to permit use of buses, which normally would be idle during school hours, for transportation of workers.

Eastman recognized that preservation of democracy is "dependent to a large degree upon maintenance of an adequete education program for the children." But he said the war has placed a tremendous burden on all forms of transportation and that sharp readjustments must be made.

"It is the clear duty of the school bus operators to use their vehicles in this time of emergency only in the actual transportation of pupils between their schools and homes," he said in a statement.

He emphasized that this does not not include the use of equipment for such events as athletic and music contests.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TALKS

High Boys and Girls 'Too Big' To Hunt Scrap, Says Rohleder

in the proposed "Victory corps" program, whereby high school boys and girls will be trained in physical fitness and boys given the opportunity to volunteer for military drill.

The plan has been outlined by War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt in Washington and will be headed by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

Rohleder said he had not heard anything about the program as it might apply to Mansfield Senior high school.

"Don't get too excited about it," he said, in reply to a question.

Rohleder said he believed that the proposed victory corps program was like a lot of things that are done in Washington—that plans are discussed there and "about three months later" the wire services get hold of the story, and by the time the public gets word of it, the plan has folded up.

Meanwhile, word came from Washington today that the war department was urging congress to pass legislation permitting the drafting for army service of 18 and 19-year-olds, boys of near high school age.

TWO TREMORS RECORDED

NEW YORK—(INS)—Fordham university seismograph officials today revealed that two moderate earth tremors were registered between 11:09 and 11:15 p. m. (EWT) last night, each occurring about 2400 miles from New York but their direction could not be determined.

perhaps less than three more," Hout told his majors.

Of course, Hout referred to a three-day canvass of Community War Chest contributors, answering the appeal of "For Home and Country—Give."

The drive starts Nov. 9 and in the time between now and then Mansfielders in all walks of life will hear the wartime plea of "give one hour's pay each month."

The "one hour's pay each month" proposed was endorsed last night by both the Richland County Federation of Labor and the Richland County Industrial council.

The Commandos' part in the task is to raise the $140,377 objective. Of this total, War Chest agencies will receive $75,357 and Community Fund agencies $65,020.

Hout told the majors to choose their captains and report back by Oct. 14. Captains in turn will organize the Commando ranks.

The name of Merritt Giles was added today to the list of Commando majors. He and Rudolph Schneider are co-majors of the public service division.

"Zero hour" in the offensive Nov. 9 will be followed by the first report session at a Central park rally on Armistice day.

Every union in the AFL council was represented and all CIO locals were represented when the labor endorsement of the "one hour's pay each month" came last night.

On Monday evening the CIO and AF of L councils will unite to hear Joseph H. Pataky, Columbus, regional director of the National CIO committee on American and Allied war relief. Hout also will speak. The unity rally is open to all unionists, and will be held at the Trades Council chambers, 37½ East Third street.

SIX BILLIONS MORE ASKED TO CARRY ON WAR

Huge Appropriation Bill on Floor of House; Navy To Receive Most of It.

mately $2,000,000 less than it had requested.

"In modern times," the committee quoted Elmer Davis, OWI chief, as saying, "everybody knows that the victories of Hitler's armies have been immensely facilitated, particularly in France, by the psychological preparations that softened up not only a good part of the French people, but still more a good part of the government."

"Hitler," Davis cautioned, "is using that same weapon on us too; he has been using it for years past; and we would be fools not to use it on him and his allies as well."

The committee made public a transcript of testimony—carefully edited to eliminate military information of value to the enemy—of numerous high-ranking government officials.

Included was testimony by Rear Admiral J. H. Towers, until recently chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, that the navy now "has considerably more pilots than required for our general needs; that non-rigid airships—blimbs—were proving "extremely valuable" in combatting the submarine menace; that the navy is building numbers of 12 and 20-man-gliders for use by the marines; that the bill would provide funds for 72 new blimps which would "give us about 120 patrol airships, 12 at the ten different stations."

Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestall testified that contract renegotiations by the navy already had resulted in recovery of between "three or four hundred million dollars" in excessive profits.

Forrestal also said that "we should put every possible effort we can upon aircraft carriers."

Lauds Newspapers For War Effort

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The nation's newspapers won today a tribute from Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, for their "whole-hearted cooperation" in the work of spreading the truth about United States war aims and accomplishments.

Davis' opinion was expressed earlier this week before the house appropriations committee when he asked for $26,990,000 to finance the OWI's use of propaganda-psychology to help win the war. His testimony was made public today.

HALF-WAY TO GOAL

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Salvage officials said today that Franklin county's drive for vital war materials so far had produced 24 million pounds, about half of the goal for the county.

Goes Back to Greece Aboard B-24 In U. S. Bombing Attack

ders life jackets adjusted and parachutes donned.

At 10,000 feet Jorgensen orders oxygen masks adjusted. We are still climbing. I am standing behind Jorgensen and Co-Pilot First Lieut. Robert T. Golberg, Blooming Prairie, Minn., fascinated by the little rubber bulbs on their masks.

Jorgensen points to the shore line. Soon we can see Greece, its peninsulas like long crooked fingers on our right. We are still climbing.

Jorgensen asks Snow White, leading, to advise when it is going to drop its bombs so I can take a photograph.

How easy it all seems! That is because these fellows are so business-like and efficient.

We are over the target. We are now in close formation. Jorgensen banks and we can see ships, like pencils, thousands of feet below.

The anti-aircraft shells start bursting around us in black puffs. It is pretty heavy. Snow White and the Jersey Jerk are dropping their bombs and one of the ships rocks.

Second Lieut. Henry M. Sparger, Mt. Airy, N. C., the bombardier, lanky, slow-moving but quick on the trigger, the only married man in the crew, reports that his own bombs have been dropped.

Maj. John Kane, Shreveport, La., warns over the telephone: "Pursuit approaching!"

There is a split-second sight of one of three or four enemy fighters diving on our starboard quarters. It looks like a black swallow.

We are the last in the formation and the Germans have glued themselves to us.

"There he is! For Christ's sake, open fire!," someone shouts.

"Open fire!" come the order.

Suddenly the tail gun of the Jersey Jerk opens fire and Jorgensen ducks. There are tracer bullets on all sides. Our guns fire furiously. The machine guns click metallically, their din muffled by our ear phones.

It looked as if Jorgensen had been hit but it was only muscular contraction as he felt bullets whiz inches away.

We are losing altitude.

"I got him, sir!" someone shouts.

"You got him? You got that plane?" asks Jorgensen.

"Yes sir, I sure did. There he goes now. He is on fire." It was Gunner Norman Frost, a former bellboy of Miami.

"I've been shot, sir." Again it was Frost.

There was a burst of machine gun fire and then the pilot asked: "You hurt bad, Frost?"

"Yes sir, afraid I am. I'm bleeding pretty bad. But we got him, sir."

"Fine business. Hold tight, I'll come back as soon as I can and try to help you."

I saw both pilots take their masks off. They are no more good. There is a hole through our oxygen tank. I rip mine off and tell Jorgensen I am going back to help Frost.

I take off my parachute harness, life jacket and sheepskin coat to negotiate the catwalk and the bomb bay and reach the waist. Frost is lying on his back, bleeding, wounded in the knee, with technical Sergt. Marvin L. Breeding, Dallas, Tex., waist gunner, bending over him.

After giving Frost first aid Breeding says:

"Would you mind looking at my leg, sir? I think I've been hit, too."

Technical Sergt. Joseph E. Farmer, St. Charles, W. Va., the engineer, is manning the belly gun. He comes back and says:

"Attaboy, Frost! Got him O. K. I saw the pilot bail out and the plane hit the sea."

Jorgensen comes back and gives Frost a shot of morphine. Frost is quiet now and there is time to look around and see that the waist and tail of the Witch look like a sieve.

I find we have a third wounded. Farmer has been hit by shrapnel, a scratch beneath his left eye.

Jorgensen advises the squadron leader that he has wounded aboard, and gets permission to return ahead of the rest of the squadron to get medical aid.

I stay on with Frost and light a cigaret for him. He is smiling although the is weakening from loss of blood.

The searchlights catch us as we came in to land. We give the recognition signal. The gun batteries hold their fire. We are aground. The ambulance takes off Frost.

Mail Christmas Gifts 20-25 Days Earlier, U.S. Urges curtailed mail transportation facilities and reduced the number of trained employes available for the distribution and delivery of mail.

Postmaster Herman E. Homberger, who received the bulletin, pointed out, for example, that cards and packages that had previously been mailed from Mansfield to the west coast a week before Christmas should be mailed this year at least two weeks before that time.

All parcels should be marked "Do not open until Christmas," the postmaster said, no matter how early they are mailed.

Business firms mailing catalogues and calendars at the end of the year are urged this season, the bulletin stated, to withhold mail of this kind during December, or else see that it is dispatched long enough before Dec. 1, to permit delivery prior to that day.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Charges of "dirty football" have been hurled back and forth since the Marion-Mt. Vernon high school game at Mt. Vernon last Friday night. But there seems to be some difference of opinion as to who was playing "dirty" and who was playing nice.

Wrote Loren Tibbals in the Marion Star:

"Last night's game was characteristic of the 10 earlier Mt. Vernon-Marion battles. Each year one of the two teams turns to a dirty type of play in an effort to win. Last night, as well as for the last three or four years, Mt. Vernon took the lead in this respect.

* * *

"On a number of occasions attempts were made to injure Marion backs . . . there was too much dirty work going on in the line to permit good line playing by Harding."

And to this Spiv Harris retorted in the Mt. Vernon News:

"We notice that the Marion Star's statistics on the game show Marion losing 55 yards in penalties against only ten for the Jackets. And we remember vividly that one 15-yard penalty against Marion came in the final stanza when Johnny Kilroy, Jacket back, was slugged in the face. There was another Marion penalty for unnecessary roughness."

(Funny thing. The coach says "Get in there and fight." The cheer leaders and the crowd yell "Fight, Fight, Fight." And then everybody's surprised when someone does. Naughty, naughty!)

Harris doesn't pour any oil on troubled waters, nor ointment on an open wound when he tells Tibbals:

"Truth to tell, I don't think the Hardings were in very good condition. They were plenty tough when the game was young, but they appeared to be pretty well worn out by the middle of the second quarter. And all three officials reported that Marion didn't block very well."

Leroy Harvey, Marion fullback, was taken to a Mt. Vernon hospital after the game, with a slight concussion and a very black eye which Harris maintains he received as the result of a hard, clean tackle.

Personal note in the Mt. Vernon News:

"Mrs Leroy Harvey of Marion spent the week-end visiting her husband in Mt Vernon Hospital-Sanitarium"

No kiddin'!

The 18-year-old Harding fullback is reported to be the only "married man" playing N C O league football this season.

* * *

How about all these high school gridders who pledge "no dates" for the duration of the football campaign? There'd be a ruckus in the Harvey household if Leroy took the pledge. I betcha.

Grade League Opens Season

Carpenter edged Prospect 7-6 in the opening game of the grade school touch football league yesterday, Bowman defeated Western 6-0 with a first period touchdown, Newman romped over Bushnell 15-2, and Brinkerhoff claimed a forfeit from Woodland.

* * *

Simpson and Yeager scored touchdowns for Newman, Reynolds for Bowman, Oswalt for Carpenter, and Egglestone for Prospect.

Lineups:

Carpenter: Bechtler, Sams, Bowser, Russell, Wilmoth, Eddles, Oswalt, Rakestrom, Farmer, Crone and Watts; Prospect, Eggleston, Hill, Murphy, Keller, McPeek, Bonebreak, Topper, Alexander, Weaver, Corcoran, Betz

GUARD INJURED

CHAMPAIGN, Ill — (INS) — All hope was abandoned today that the injured Bob Wilson, regular left guard, will be in the Illinois lineup Saturday against Minnesota. Coach Ray Eliot sent the Illini through Minnesota plays with Julius Rykovitch, freshman, in the role of Bill Daley, Gopher left half.

Football Gambling Attacked

Small Pool Makes Big Noise at Kent State.

By REID CLUTTER

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— As football flowers into full bloom on Ohio college campuses, an ugly weed veers its head at Kent State university.

The Kent State campus newspaper has charged that some of the school's football players are in on a football gambling pool. The pool is supposed to be operated by a Pittsburgh syndicate and some football players, according to the author of an editorial in the Kent Stater, are supposed to get 20 per cent of the "take."

In the game last Saturday, Findlay was "spotted" 12 points in the pool, according to the campus paper's student-reporter — Tom Gavagan of Cleveland. And the Kent football team was charged with making an unreasonable attempt in the final quarter to add a second touchdown to the 6 to 0 score.

The campus paper contended that it was foolish for Kent to throw passes which might have been intercepted, and that they should have played safe with their six-point margin.

It turned out that Kent won, 6-0, but the "syndicate" pool, with its 12-point spot, lost.

Kent State's coach, G D Starn, said that the whole matter was "too ridiculous to comment on."

"The fellow who wrote the story admitted to me that he didn't even see the last half of the game," Starn said. "And the accusation against the team is very unjust, in the face of the fact that only one pass was thrown in the last 15 plays of the game.

President K. C Leebrick of Kent State said that he had started an investigation of the charges contained in the editorial He said he was "making every effort to stop any practice that might have existed"

Over the week-end several outstanding games between Ohio colleges will be played

On Friday afternoon Ohio Wesleyan plays at Baldwin-Wallace. The Bishops of Wesleyan are undefeated so far this season, having won from Albion college, 7-0, and from Bowling Green, 15-14. But the latest information indicates that Wesleyan's best ground-gainer, Bruce MacKinnon, a halfback from Kenmore, N. Y., will not be able to play. He has been sent to the hospital with a severe case of hives.

On Friday night Findlay meets Muskingum in an Ohio conference tilt. Findlay has been unable to score so far this season while taking defeats from Dayton, Ohio Northern and Kent. Muskingum has won one, lost one and tied one.

Two undefeated Ohio conference teams will meet in Westerville on Saturday afternoon when Kenyon takes the field against Otterbein Kenyon defeated Bluffton last Saturday, 12-6. Otterbein has shown a lot of class this season while defeating Heidelberg and Muskingum.

The Denison homecoming game will be played at Granville against Oberlin It will be Oberlin's first game of the season.

Capital university, victor over Defiance, 39-0, in its only game so far, will go to Bluffton Saturday.

In an Ohio conference, Wooster takes on Heidelberg. Wooster has won one and lost one, while Heidelberg has lost both of its games this season.

* * *

Ohio Northern plays Wittenberg, in the only other Ohio conference game.

Other games this week-end include:

Friday afternoon: Western Reserve at Syracuse.

Friday night: Miami Naval Radio school at DePauw; Western Kentucky State at Youngstown, and Wilberforce vs. Tuskegee Institute at Chicago.

Saturday afternoon. Bowling Green at Ball State Teachers' college; Butler at Ohio university; Case at Carnegie Tech; Dayton at the University of Tennessee; Hiram at Westminster, Kent State at Miami, and Western Michigan at Toledo.

Saturday night: Centre college a. Cincinnati.

Sunday afternoon: John Carroll at Xavier.

KUZMA IMPROVES

ANN ARBOR, Mich—(INS)—There was a possibility today that Tom Kuzma, ace Michigan halfback, may be able to play briefly in Saturday's game against the Iowa SeaHawks. Although somewhat weak at right tackle, the Wolverines expect to have as strong a line as Minnesota, the best forward wall the Seahawks have faced this year.

RAMS STAR RETAINS LEAD IN PUNTING

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Jack Jacobs, young Cleveland Ram star, retained his lead among the National football league punters this week.

Jacobs increased his average to 46 yards for 15 tries.

Parker Hall, another Cleveland played, led in punt returns with eight.

Schmunk Has Scoring Honors

Turns In 554 Total In Tappan Bowling.

Paul Schmunk took scoring honors in the Tappan Stove bowling league last night at Colony alleys with a 554 total on games of 217-168-169.

J. Mabee rolled high game of 232, right after a 135 game.

Columbia Star Paces Passers

CHICAGO — (AP) — The passing prowess of Columbia's Paul Governali has swept him into first place among the nation's leading ground gainers

* * *

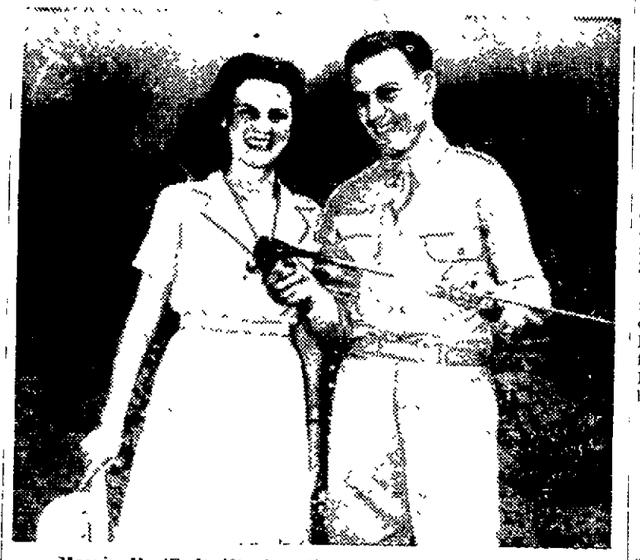
First figures from the American football statistical bureau, which has shifted its offices from Seattle to Chicago, showed today that in two games the Columbia senior had accounted for 451 yards from rushing and passing.

* * *

Second to Governali in total offense was Dick Fisher, former Ohio State player now with Bernie Bierman's Iowa Naval Pre-Flight school In three games Fisher has totaled 425 yards; 216 coming in 36 rushes and 209 more in 16 attempted passes.

The No 1 ball carrier, however, is Don Griffin, Illinois junior, who has sped 324 yards over a two game stretch.

Golf Star's In Army Now



Marvin H. (Bud) Ward, national amateur golf champion in 1939 and again in 1941, is in the army now, stationed at Miami Beach, Fla. Bud's wife is shown with him.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Travel troubles: Alabama's footballers, who made the trip via "u-drive" cars will go to Mobile the same way for this week's game with the Pensacola Fliers. They say it's good training for driving jeeps, which most of them expect to be doing before long . . . Harry Mendel comes up with a story of a six-day bike rider who solved the transportation problem by pedalling from Buffalo to Montreal for a race.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Kenneth Jones, Peoria (Ill.) Journal-Transcript: "It is easy to say now that the Cardinals have the stuff with which to upset the dope bucket! . . . Just as easy as it was for the military experts to predict the downfall of Stalingrad a month ago. Or for the baseball critics to say—a month ago—that the Cards never had an outside chance."

ONE-MINUTE SPORT PAGE.

One danger resulting from the recent world series is that other clubs will try to run like the Cardinals—thereby producing a record number of spavins and shin splits among the old guys who will be playing ball next year.... Sailor Fred Apostoli, former 160-pound champ, may be the next middleweight opponent for Ray Robinson, if the navy doesn't have other plans for Freddie. . . . Latest report around town is that Branch Rickey definitely has that Brooklyn job sewed up and the hunt for a manager has narrowed down to Bucky Harris and Chuck Dressen.

Navy Lieut. Jack Miley, who, as a sports scribe, tabbed himself "Just a mug from Wisconsin," walked into a local restaurant the other night and encountered Chief Boatswain's Mate Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. Alf, according to regulations, gave Jack his smartest salute. . . . "This is a helluva war," commented Miley. "Who ever thought a Vanderbilt was going to salute a Miley?"

FRANKIE RUNS WILD

ATHENS, Ga — (AP) — Frankie Sinkwich, All-America halfback at the University of Georgia in 1941, has played less than 20 minutes in Georgia's last two games, but he scored four touchdowns, passed 245 yards and rushed 145 yards. Last year he led the nation's football players on total offense.

Brown Fears Southern Cal

Western Teams Come East Seeking Victory.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Perhaps that famous counsel "Go west young man" doesn't apply to football. Southern California and Stanford are coming east in quest of their season's first football successes Saturday

Southern California hope to find it at Columbus, where the Trojans oppose Ohio State, one of the likely title threats in the western conference. Stanford goes to Notre Dame, the Big Ten's No 1 neighbor.

Neither Pacific coast school has won a game in two starts, although the Trojans emerged with a scoreless tie against Washington State last week.

At Ohio State Coach Paul Brown admits he fears Southern California.

At Notre Dame, Coach Frank Leahy, already having trouble with his newly adopted T formation, runs smack into another one despite the fact the Stanford coach, like himself, is a Notre Dame grad who gained his early football training under Knute Rockne.

Leahy ran into more trouble yesterday when he learned a knee injury probably would keep Center Wally Ziemba out of Saturday's game.

Wooley Again Paces League

Rams Point for Second Place

CLEVELAND—(INS)— Confident of a victory over the Redskins at Washington this Sunday, the Cleveland Rams today were shooting for second place in the National league football league

The world champion Chicago Bears who beat the Rams last week 21-7, are expected to retain their first place position.

The Cleveland team's hopes were strengthened on learning of the rapid recovery of Jim Benton, star left end who injured his leg in the game at Detroit and was out of last week's line-up. Benton is said to be one of the best pass receivers in the business.

CAPTAINS PURDUE

LAFAYETTE, Ind—(INS)—John Andretich, hard driving right halfback, was named today to captain Purdue when the Boilermakers meet Northwestern at Evanston Saturday.

DECLARES DI MAGGIO HASN'T A WEAKNESS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Johnny Beazley, St. Louis Cardinal rookie who won two games from the New York Yankees in the world series, says Joe DiMaggio is the best hitter he ever faced.

"He hasn't got a weakness," said Beazley at a home welcoming here. "He just stands there and doesn't bat an eyelid. Sometimes you wish he would."

Bosko Leads Westie-C Loop

Kindinger Rolls High Game In League.

George Bosko paced the Westinghouse "C" bowling league last night at Colony alleys with a 517 total, including a 203 game.

Ray Kindinger, who had a 510 total, scored high game of 206.

Appleseed Wins Opener

Breaks 7-7 Tie With 40-Yard Touchdown Run.

Johnny Appleseed junior high gridders opened their season with a 13 to 7 victory at Galion yesterday, breaking a 7-7 tie in the third quarter.

The Pioneers scored in the first quarter on a 60-yard march with Fullback Jay Marchint plunging over for the touchdown. Marchint also bucked the line for extra point.

Back came Galion in the third quarter with a long march ending in a 20-yard scoring run around end by Fullback McGuire. A pass for point was incomplete but was allowed because Appleseed was offside.

Then the Pioneers reached into their bag of tricks and came up with an end-around play on which Bob Bishop ran 40 yards for the winning touchdown.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1942.

Let's see, what's the argument now for keeping clocks set an hour and a half ahead of sun time?

"Let's plan for a Sunday drive out to Woodland," may be the mid-week suggestion soon—instead of "Why not drive up to Cleveland for lunch."

Flash! Castor oil has been placed under complete WPB control, with allocations to start November 1—so it's time for hoarders to start a run on drug stores.

Don't Let Whistles Worry You

NO NEED to become disturbed at 7 o'clock this evening when five Mansfield factory whistles start blowing simultaneously—as was the case with many people a few months ago when a locomotive whistle became stuck and sounded continuously for a half hour or more.

Factory whistles will be blown this evening to test their sound-carrying capacities, for the enlightenment of air raid wardens in various parts of the city, and hope is expressed that there will be no such volume of non-essential telephone calls as marked the occasion of the stuck locomotive whistle. Telephone facilities are now needed for transmission of important messages and it is asked that during the whistle-blowing period this evening no non-essential phone calls be made—so as to keep the lines open for civilian defense calls associated with the test.

Time To Lessen Fire Hazards

ALTHOUGH not specially observed in Mansfield, it seems not out of place to note that this is National Fire Prevention Week, with much emphasis being placed on the importance of reducing fire losses to a minimum—as a part of the nation's war effort.

Fires at any time cause needless waste of lives and property but the loss is even greater in wartime when work and material are greatly needed for military purposes.

Daily, throughout the country, fires result from carelessness—and there are still people who will put kerosene or gasoline on open fires, look for gas leaks with matches, drop lighted cigaret stubs carelessly in inflammable material, neglect to take proper precaution with electric wiring, permit home heating units to become overheated, dispose of hot ashes in wooden containers or throw burning matches in wastebaskets.

Ridding the premises of scrap metal also presents a good opportunity to clear out rubbish that might make a fine starting place for fire and this course is recommended.

The slogan for this year's observance of Fire Prevention Week is "Every Fire Helps Hitler"—and it's worth keeping in mind.

Youthful War Stamp Salesmen

AS A WIND-UP of National Newspaper Week it seems appropriate to devote a few lines of appreciation to the fine service being performed by carrier boys who, week after week, have been disposing of war savings stamps to customers on their routes.

This is an added task and responsibility that was cheerfully accepted by the boys as a way in which they could help in the national war effort, and it may surprise some to note that News-Journal carriers and street salesmen have accounted for more than $91,000 in war stamps sales since the start was made early this year.

While this amount may not seem large when compared with the millions and billions of dollars needed to meet costs of winning the war, it may be noted that all large sums represent an accumulation of many small ones—and that every dime and dollar shares in reaching local and national quotas.

If you are not already buying war stamps regularly each week from your carrier boy why not start to do so this week? He will appreciate it—and so will your Uncle Sam.

Columbus Follows Mansfield's Lead

NOW that Columbus city council has passed an ordinance requiring midnight closing of all beer and liquor places in the capital city, it will be interesting to watch administration attitude as to enforcement, since the ordinance was passed over the mayor's veto.

Mansfield, it may be well to keep in mind, has a similar ordinance, passed in good faith by council about seven years ago and enforced for a time but ignored by the present city administration.

It appears, in fact, that Mayor Locke has no knowledge of the existence of such an ordinance, as a direct quote from his recent letter to the state liquor control board in which he intervened in behalf of a local night club operator under charges of selling to minors, is as follows: "During this period I have found that he has operated within the law and have had no complaints whatever regarding his operations in Mansfield. Any consideration shown him will be appreciated."

The period referred to is stated as five years, during which the mayor's acquaintanceship with the accused night club proprietor extended, according to the letter.

As it is common knowledge that night clubs in Mansfield remain open until 2:30 a. m., in violation of the city ordinance, one of two conclusions must be reached—either that Mayor Locke does not know that there is such an ordinance, or that he does not regard it as LAW.

Why Calves Are Slaughtered

SUGGESTION that calves should not be slaughtered to provide veal, but should be allowed to mature into beef, is met by the argument that the high cost of feed and insufficiency of farm labor makes this impracticable.

Then again, it is set forth, ceiling prices on butchered meat holds down prices which can be paid for beef on the hoof, and, in consequence, stock raisers are encouraged to sell calves instead of fattening cattle for the market.

Also considered is the fact that the farmer gets a liberal grain loan from the government, with no compulsion to refund the money, so why should he go to the extra trouble of redeeming his grain and feeding it at a less profit.

The country could do right well without veal as an item of meat diet, but here again "production costs" enter into the picture.

And not a word had been said about a shortage in New York of the brand of breakfast food that produces champion baseball players.

LITTLE BROTHER CARRIES ON

Doubt Secrecy of 'Secret' Trip

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's recent secret war inspection tour of the United States was a secret for safety's sake, it was explained. That is, it was a secret from all but a few millions of people throughout the country.

If it was a secret from any of our enemy governments, they'd be well advised to change their espionage agents in our midst. Assuming that that presidential trip was secret from their present staffs, they can't be very efficient snoopers.

Such an individual as our White House tenant can't mysteriously disappear from Washington for a fortnight without arousing a certain amount of curiosity as to his whereabouts.

Neither can so well known a personality as Franklin D. Roosevelt devote his two weeks' absence from the capital to a journey from coast to coast and back again, plus a little side-trip into Mexico, facing a huge crowd at each stop-over and making an occasional speech in the course of his travels—he can't do it without being more or less identified.

Franklin D. isn't sufficiently unsophisticated not to realize all this.

Consequently it's a fair conclusion that safety considerations weren't the sole reason for the secrecy over that he slapped, through Censor Byron Price's office, onto the entire Yankee press, until he was ready, himself, to release the accumulated story.

Practice Blackout?

One guess is that the stunt was in the nature of a practice blackout.

A make-believe blackout's purpose is to train folk into dousing their lights and hunting cover the minute they hear the sirens. It's educational, but it fools nobody, so far as the U. S. A.'s concerned, and isn't expected to.

Now, what's the chance that the presidential idea in issuing that censored mandate was simply to accustom the press and its readers to spells of wartime secrecy—not for his own protection or from a desire to choke off the news indefinitely?

Indeed, he didn't want the news choked off, for he broadcast it as vociferously as possible when he thought the right time had come.

Probably the truth is that one of his reasons for keeping on a temporary husher was to get the public upon the qui vive, in order to create all the more of a sensation when, finally, he took the cork out.

Another explanation's suggested.

It's this:

F. D. R. decided on that transcontinental expedition and didn't want to postpone it, for this was an appropriate juncture, to see what's stirring and to boost enthusiasm.

From a political standpoint, it didn't look quite the right time for the round-up, though. Congressional election day was then little more than a month ahead, and it was obvious that opposition newspapers would describe the affair as unadulterated campaigning in administration candidates' interests.

It doesn't appear that F. D. R. did so any actual plugging for those of his own preference, though his mere presence in their various bailiwicks may have been helpful to 'em.

Since it's been all over, such papers as have chosen to do so have been in a position to holler "politics" and some of 'em have done so, but it was belated enough to have lost most of its pungency.

Listen Mansfield!

An Open Letter

—By MARJORIE R. BROOK

(Editor's Note—This space, usually occupied by Elsie Robinson's "Listen World" article, is being used today to present to News-Journal readers some thoughts which are occupying the mind of Mrs. Marjorie R. Brook, 201 Euclid avenue, Mansfield.)

EDITOR NEWS-JOURNAL:

Isn't it about time that we wake up to realization that THIS IS WAR!

This isn't a game a bunch of schoolboys are playing—it's a war of such devastating, catastrophic proportions as the world has never before seen—and, pray God, may never see again.

But how many of us realize it? If you have a son, a husband or other loved one in service, then you do know. But how about those countless others whose sons are too young, or whose husbands have been spared? Apparently to most of them this war is just a nuisance—an infringement on their liberties—something which has taken away a few luxuries.

"For the duration" is a term heard every day—and it's usually followed by "I'm sick of hearing that." It gets a little tiresome, doesn't it, when we can't buy new tires, silk hose, or all the coffee and sugar we want? Many of our citizens are riding the buses for the first time, and making it very plain to anyone who cares to listen, what a disagreeable thing it is, especially when there is only standing room.

AND working overtime at night and on Saturdays—that's the worst of all. It means giving up a show now and then or maybe a card party or even a week-end trip. Of course there's more money in it—but what's the use of more money anyway? The government just comes along and takes it away in higher taxes, or expects you to buy more bonds. You can't spend it for anything you really want—so it's not much use, is it?

And this bother of running from store to store picking up a pound of coffee at each one—now that's really a bore, isn't it? Especially when you have to stand in line to get it.

Frankly, if I had a son or husband in service and had to listen to these petty ravings, I'd be so mad I'd see red:

As it is, I can no longer keep silent. My son isn't old enough to be in the army, and my husband has not been called so far, for which I am more grateful than I can say. And I feel that I should be very humble in the presence of those who have given so much.

Their sons and husbands are fighting for me—fighting desperately to help us maintain a decent, respectable world in which to raise our children. They are fighting for civilization itself—and all that it implies. I could no more hoard a single pound of coffee or sugar than I could laugh at a service star in someone's window. Why should I be permitted two or three cups of coffee for breakfast while my neighbor has none?

WHY should I have several hundred pounds of sugar hidden away while my neighbor cautions her children to use less sugar on their cereal, or asks them to go without dessert? Why should I be permitted to have extra tires and gas while my neighbor's son is fighting for his very life without proper weapons to defend himself?

I have heard people boast of the amounts of coffee, tea, sugar and other staples they have hidden away. They would be grossly insulted if a federal officer made a search of their premises—would demand their constitutional rights, no doubt! Yet because of their inherent selfishness, someone else goes without! I wonder if these self righteous citizens feel that they are more important to the world in general than the boys who are fighting for them? I wonder if they feel that they are more important than our Allies, those grossly maligned and greatly unappreciated Allies who are being slaughtered in such staggering numbers.

It's probably a very good thing for their ego that they cannot see how relatively small and unimportant they are in the general scheme of things. Their importance at this moment is great because of their selfishness to their fellowmen—but that is scarcely a position to be proud of.

Isn't it about time that we wake up? This war is not going to be won in a few weeks, as so many predicted. We haven't even started to win—so far we have lost far more than we have gained. And in spite of rumors to the contrary, I reiterate, we can lose this war! At this moment, we are losing it! And it isn't our brave, gallant boys at the front who are losing it—it is the folks back home who are so blind to reality.

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is more than just a phrase—our forefathers fought to establish it—millions of men today are fighting to maintain it. AND IF WE LOSE IT HOW BITTER THAT HOARDED COFFEE AND SUGAR WILL TASTE!

Message to the Folks at Home About Morals of Boys In Army

—By DE WITT MACKENZIE

LONDON—This is a friendly, intimate message to the folks back home about the moral welfare of their boys in the army over here and it is good to be able to say right at the start that while there are some rather spotty places you can rest easy in your minds.

I figured you'd be anxious to know how things are going and were entitled to the facts about a subject that is very close to the hearts of all of us. I had heard some stories and observed some things which, while not of vast importance in themselves, set me to thinking.

So I've been looking about a bit and talking with army people who know how the battle of morals really goes.

I got away to a good start through a chance word dropped by Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower during a conversation with him. It is not permitted to quote him but his remark was in effect condemnation of loose living and showed clearly his abhorrence of that sort of thing.

Since then I have run across plenty of evidence that the AEF commander-in-chief is indeed a clean liver and sets an examplary standard for his men. It is small wonder, then, that we find the vast majority of them keeping step with him and members of his staff who make it their business to keep stragglers from falling out of line.

Right here, and before we discuss those spotty places, I'd like to introduce the testimony of two distinguished officers immediately associated with the welfare of our boys.

First meet Colonel James L. Blakeney, kindly-faced, business-like chaplain-in-chief, who tells me General Eisenhower "backs his chaplains up 100 per cent."

Here is his summary of the position of morality among our troops in the British Isles.

"On the whole our standard is very, very high. There's no more letting down of moral standards than there was at home."

Then there is Colonel P. B. Rogers, headquarters commandant.

"There's no problem with our boys," he told me in his crisp incisive language. "They're well-disciplined, well-behaved. They are an amazing lot. The British people are astonished at their good manners. They are fine gentlemen."

"The trouble in London relates to one per cent."

And what about London?

Well, it's no worse than any other great metropolis in wartime and it's better than many. Wherever there are a lot of troops there will be an army of bad gal-following them. That probably has been true since the first primitive army went into the field.

So London has a host of huntresses, some of them shockingly young, who chase every soldier on sight. The same is true of some lesser British towns.

THE STREETS are always full of soldiers of many countries who are on leave or off duty for a few hours. Among them are some of our Yankee boys and a few of them succumb to the blandishments of camp followers—that would be the one per cent of which the colonel spoke.

I quizzed him about that one per cent and questioned the chaplain about it, too. Just as my observation had led me to believe, this tiny percentage of backsliders who allow themselves to associate with some of the toughest, most slovenly women of the streets represents the men who have no breeding and weren't much good back home.

"When you raise an army of a million men you don't go into their morals," remarked the colonel dryly. "You get a mixture of all sorts, from extremely religious to the bad.

"You can't raise a man's morals by putting a uniform on him.

"A good boy in our army can keep good. He is given every opportunity for good environment.

"But you can't say he must stay beside a piano and sing songs."

Rogers explained a lot of the difficulty in London was due to bad bootleg liquor which is being circulated.

Chaplain Blakeney was quite clear on the point that the situation here is no worse than it has been in America.

"There are a lot of girls in Piccadilly," he said grudgingly, "but there have been the same conditions around our camps in America."

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — There has been a lot of "pep talk" piped out of Washington since Pearl Harbor but none of it caused much consternation here. The other day when two-fisted, tough minded Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ralph E. Bard said plainly that we are losing the war, the national capital went back on its heels and began to take stock.

I don't believe I have heard any question more often asked here since Bard drove that one to the chin than: "Do you really think we are losing the war?"

I have asked it many times myself and have tried to confine the query to people who should know something about it. But the substance of all those answers is best summed up in one that came from a taxi driver whose modest claim to fame was that he hauled Vice President Wallace to the White House the other day and exchanged three words with him. ("I said, nice day. He said, "Yeah.' Seemed like a nice fellow.")

Out of such contacts with persons in high places, this cabbie was able to tie up all the answers in a one-sentence bundle. He said: "Well, we ain't winning it."

OVER in the War Department, if you know where to look and he hasn't been moved since you were there last, you can find one of the old line officers who has been around long enough to know that a newspaperman isn't off his beat just because he's wandering around outside the Office of War Information.

He'll take your question, chew on it a minute, look at the ceiling, and say: "Well, let's look at the facts." When he gets through reeling off the gains that Hitler has made in the last few months listing the territories that Japan has overrun; and balanced these with what United Nations' counterblows have accomplished, you'll think that Mr. Bard was just gossiping over a teacup.

When he sees how low you look, he'll grin and point out that the Russians are hanging on by that crocodile hide that's the skin of their teeth; that Nazis seem stymied in Egypt; that the Japs haven't been able to retake those vital Solomons; and that in spite of all the hurdles, the United States' sea, land and airpower and its merchant marine are reaching big time proportions.

Still you can see what that adds up to: "We ain't winning it yet."

ON CAPITOL HILL, you'll find a lot of fellows who will agree with Mr. Bard, but they won't stop there. They have to make a speech. Generally the text of the speech is that the opposition is to blame—the "opposition" being that part of the body politic that disagrees with the speaker.

Only one of the many I talked to (being a Navy man, he asked not to be quoted as commenting on Mr. Bard's statement) had what I consider almost as good an answer as the assistant secretary. He said: "Yes, but we wouldn't be tomorrow if 130,000,000 would roll out in the morning and say: 'We are losing the war and today I'm going to do something about it.'"

NEW YORK — Looks like an even busier season than supposed for Max Gordon, who already has "My Sister Eileen" and "Junior Miss" humming along. He will bring four other productions to Broadway, "Franklin Street," "Carmen Jones," "The Wife Takes a Child," "Old Soldiers Never Die."

But what I started out to tell you about Gordon is a little business deal he had with an unknown author one day, who dropped in unannounced, bashful and broke, but with a briefcase filled with manuscripts. Gorden liked one short piece called "In the Zone" and gave the writer a $50 advance. He turned out to be Eugene O'Neill.

OUR nature item of the week concerns Lucy, a 2-year-old Australian terrier who is very used to going up and coming down (safely) in planes piloted by members of the late Flying Tigers.

Her master is Harvey K. Greenlaw, second in command of the Tigers, who came to New York and registered at the Commodore hotel the other day.

During the press conference Lucy escaped to the corridors and spent a busy twenty minutes going up and down in the elevators, to the considerable alarm of a couple of housemaids, who were after her. The rise and fall of the elevators, perhaps caused Lucy to think she was roughing it over and above the old ex-Burma road once more.

ONE performer who leaps from the sublime to the ridiculous with astounding ease and does well in both is Bobby Clark. You will remember him as Bob Acres in "The Rivals," in which he was enormously successful. Now he is gaining a large portion of the applause in "Star and Garter," the rich man's Burlesque. Such is the clamor for admittance to this velvet-backed strip show that tickets are practically unavailable. You could get all you wanted of the same entertainment in the old days of several years ago for 40 cents, before the city went "pure" and took burlesque out of the reach of poor people.

TED COLLINS claims that Kate Smith has introduced easily seventy-five per cent of the music that is sung or whistled on street corners or in bath tubs. That's a boastful figure, but being no musical statistician, who am I to argue?

A pertinent point, anyway, is that Miss Smith has so many millions of listeners that motion picture producers would give practically anything to have their films recommended by Kate. She and Ted seldom mention a film, and even then it is for gratis. Collins claims he mentions only films he is crazy about, and these are far between.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Chicago's great fire started on this date, 1871, either from spontaneous combustion of hay or from the kick of a cow upsetting a lantern in Mrs. O'Leary's barn at 137 de Koven street. The conflagration lasted three days, destroying 18,000 buildings with an established loss of over $196,000,000.

A Farmer's Diary

Schools at War

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

OUR 11-year-old boy went biking after school and came home for supper with such a glow of enthusiasm on his face that I asked, "What have you been up to?"

"I'm a sergeant! Our bike patrol is gettin' in the scrap! We go around to all the houses where no children are in school, and ask 'em. Every place we went they said, 'No, we haven't any,' and then they looked at us and smiled and started to think up where some might be. It was real funny.

"The first place we went, the man was pretty old and he lived pretty far back a lane, but he remembered where he had the swellest 25-lb. weight—solid iron—that he used to tie his team to. We were goin' to take it to the schoolhouse on our bikes, but he said, 'No, I'll be goin' in anyway with the milk and I'll bring it to your classroom.' So we put it in the back of his car, and stopped at the next house. She was a jolly woman who said, 'No old iron—I gave that a'ready—but come to think of it here's a bag of old rags you boys can take along. So we tied it on behind.

"Another place we got old rubber soles and heels to fill our pockets. There are five more farms we want to visit before Saturday. Whichever grade in our school gets the most scrap will get in free to the picture show and the snake charmer show and some special programs we're having at chapel. The newspapers are backing us, and the factories are depending on us—every patriotic person oughta dig up 100 pounds of scrap—specially children with sharp eyes.

"The teacher said these are more historic times than any in the history books—and it'll be up to us to finish the war and start a peace that'll last. He said we have tools now to build and a better world than anybody could have imagined when our dads were boys—and those same tools could blow us right back into savagery!

"Plenty o' people might die for their country, but they'd fall down on driving at 35 miles an hour, to help save the country. You can't make peace with men who attack you in time of peace. There's no safety for anybody unless our side wins. So we're gettin' in the scrap—can I take that old stove in the garage?"

And I said "YES"—for who can refuse a plea like that? Our school boys and girls, scouring sheds and attics for materials to win this fight for all our lives, and the freedom of all the world—that is basic and fundamental education.

WANTS TO KNOW WHERE HE LIVES

Man Advertises For Address, Then Leaves Clothes at Newspaper Office.

NORFOLK, Va —(UP)— T C Steele is a forgetful sort of cuss—but maybe it's just that he's so busy in the war effort that he can't be bothered with unimportant details

Like losing a rooming house, for instance

At any rate, Steele came here from Durham, N. C., and got a job at the Norfolk naval operating base. He rented a room, noted the address on a scrap of paper and then rushed to the job.

While working, he lost the scrap of paper—so he went to a newspaper office to run a classified ad He wanted the landlady to call in and tell him where he lived!

The ad placed, he left the newspaper office—leaving the Steele work clothes in his wake

So then the paper had to start looking for Steele!

How Many Suits In A Clothing Store?

Did you ever look through the complete stock of a big men's clothing store? They have lots of colors, patterns and sizes, don't they? Why? Of course you know the answer. There are lots of different kinds of people.

Yet it may interest you to know that in making clothing in the big ready-to-wear factories, they are pretty well able to please and fit hundreds of thousands of men in "average groups." They make certain standard sizes. They use certain styles. They find that thousands of men in different parts of the country take exactly the same measurements and exactly the same pattern. That's what happens under "the law of averages."

In recent years much use has been made of this very valuable "law of averages" in learning how to serve the public better. Instead of depending upon the opinions of a few men considered to be experts, it has been found advisable to get facts by checking with thousands of people and thereby securing an absolutely accurate result through "the law of averages."

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Charges of "dirty football" have been hurled back and forth since the Marion-Mt. Vernon high school game at Mt. Vernon last Friday night. But there seems to be some difference of opinion as to who was playing "dirty" and who was playing nice.

Wrote Loren Tibbals in the Marion Star:

"Last night's game was characteristic of the 10 earlier Mt. Vernon-Marion battles. Each year one of the two teams turns to a dirty type of play in an effort to win. Last night, as well as for the last three or four years, Mt. Vernon took the lead in this respect.

* * *

"On a number of occasions attempts were made to injure Marion backs . . . there was too much dirty work going on in the line to permit good line playing by Harding."

And to this Spiv Harris retorted in the Mt. Vernon News:

"We notice that the Marion Star's statistics on the game show Marion losing 55 yards in penalties against only ten for the Jackets. And we remember vividly that one 15-yard penalty against Marion came in the final stanza when Johnny Kilroy, Jacket back, was slugged in the face. There was another Marion penalty for unnecessary roughness."

* * *

(Funny thing. The coach says "Get in there and fight." The cheer leaders and the crowd yell "Fight, Fight, Fight." And then everybody's surprised when someone does. Naughty, naughty!)

Harris doesn't pour any oil on troubled waters, nor ointment on an open wound when he tells Tibbals:

"Truth to tell, I don't think the Hardings were in very good condition. They were plenty tough when the game was young, but they appeared to be pretty well worn out by the middle of the second quarter. And all three officials reported that Marion didn't block very well."

Leroy Harvey, Marion fullback, was taken to a Mt. Vernon hospital after the game, with a slight concussion and a very black eye which Harris maintains he received as the result of a hard, clean tackle.

* * *

Personal note in the Mt. Vernon News:

"Mrs. Leroy Harvey of Marion spent the week-end visiting her husband in Mt Vernon Hospital-Sanitarium."

No kiddin'!

The 18-year-old Harding fullback is reported to be the only "married man" playing N. C. O league football this season.

* * *

How about all these high school gridders who pledge "no dates" for the duration of the football campaign? There'd be a ruckus in the Harvey household if Leroy took the pledge. I betcha.

Grade League Opens Season

Carpenter edged Prospect 7-6 in the opening game of the grade school touch football league yesterday. Bowman defeated Western 6-0 with a first period touchdown, Newman romped over Bushnell 15-2, and Brinkerhoff claimed a forfeit from Woodland.

* * *

Simpson and Yeager scored touchdowns for Newman, Reynolds for Bowman, Oswalt for Carpenter, and Egglestone for Prospect.

Lineups:

Carpenter: Bechtler, Sams, Bowser, Russell, Wilmoth, Eddles, Oswalt, Rakestrom, Farmer, Crone and Watts; Prospect, Eggleston, Hill, Murphy, Keller, McPeek, Bonebreak, Topper, Alexander, Weaver, Corcoran, Betz.

Western: Wise, Bargahiser, Cook, Blantz, Hoff, Green, Marchant, Goettle, Knarr, McCally, Stevick; Bowman, Zartman, Duffey, Fox, Smiley, Barrett, Shoop, Sugua, Chamberlin, Taddeo, Carver, Reynolds.

GUARD INJURED

CHAMPAIGN, Ill — (INS) — All hope was abandoned today that the injured Bob Wilson, regular left guard, will be in the Illinois lineup Saturday against Minnesota. Coach Ray Eliot sent the Illini through Minnesota plays with Julius Rykovitch, freshman, in the role of Bill Daley, Gopher left half.

Football Gambling Attacked

Small Pool Makes Big Noise at Kent State.

By REID CLUTTER

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— As football flowers into full bloom on Ohio college campuses, an ugly weed veers its head at Kent State university.

The Kent State campus newspaper has charged that some of the school's football players are in on a football gambling pool. The pool is supposed to be operated by a Pittsburgh syndicate and some football players, according to the author of an editorial in the Kent Stater, are supposed to get 20 per cent of the "take."

In the game last Saturday, Findlay was "spotted" 12 points in the pool, according to the campus paper's student-reporter — Tom Gavagan of Cleveland. And the Kent football team was charged with making an unreasonable attempt in the final quarter to add a second touchdown to the 6 to 0 score.

The campus paper contended that it was foolish for Kent to throw passes which might have been intercepted, and that they should have played safe with their six-point margin.

It turned out that Kent won, 6-0, but the "syndicate" pool, with its 12-point spot, lost.

Kent State's coach, G. D Starn, said that the whole matter was "too ridiculous to comment on."

"The fellow who wrote the story admitted to me that he didn't even see the last half of the game," Starn said. "And the accusation against the team is very unjust, in the face of the fact that only one pass was thrown in the last 15 plays of the game.

President K. C. Leebrick of Kent State said that he had started an investigation of the charges contained in the editorial He said he was "making every effort to stop any practice that might have existed"

Over the week-end several outstanding games between Ohio colleges will be played.

* * *

On Friday afternoon Ohio Wesleyan plays at Baldwin-Wallace. The Bishops of Wesleyan are undefeated so far this season, having won from Albion college, 7-0, and from Bowling Green, 13-14. But the latest information indicates that Wesleyan's best ground-gainer, Bruce MacKinnon, a halfback from Kenmore, N. Y., will not be able to play. He has been sent to the hospital with a severe case of hives.

On Friday night Findlay meets Muskingum in an Ohio conference tilt. Findlay has been unable to score so far this season while taking defeats from Dayton, Ohio Northern and Kent. Muskingum has won one, lost one and tied one.

Two undefeated Ohio conference teams will meet in Westerville on Saturday afternoon when Kenyon takes the field against Otterbein Kenyon defeated Bluffton last Saturday, 12-6 Otterbein has shown a lot of class this season while defeating Heidelberg and Muskingum

The Denison homecoming game will be played at Granville against Oberlin It will be Oberlin's first game of the season.

Capital university, victor over Defiance, 39-0, in its only game so far, will go to Bluffton Saturday.

In an Ohio conference, Wooster takes on Heidelberg. Wooster has won one and lost one, while Heidelberg has lost both of its games this season.

Ohio Northern plays Wittenberg, in the only other Ohio conference game.

Other games this week-end include:

Friday afternoon: Western Reserve at Syracuse.

Friday night: Miami Naval Radio school at DePauw; Western Kentucky State at Youngstown, and Wilberforce vs. Tuskegee Institute at Chicago.

Saturday afternoon: Bowling Green at Ball State Teachers' college; Butler at Ohio university; Case at Carnegie Tech; Dayton at the University of Tennessee; Hiram at Westminster; Kent State at Miami, and Western Michigan at Toledo.

Saturday night: Centre college at Cincinnati.

Sunday afternoon: John Carroll at Xavier

KUZMA IMPROVES

ANN ARBOR, Mich—(INS)—There was a possibility today that Tom Kuzma, ace Michigan halfback, may be able to play briefly in Saturday's game against the Iowa SeaHawks. Although somewhat weak at right tackle, the Wolvermes expect to have as strong a line as Minnesota, the best forward wall the Seahawks have faced this year.

RAMS STAR RETAINS LEAD IN PUNTING

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Jack Jacobs, young Cleveland Ram star, retained his lead among the National football league punters this week.

Jacobs increased his average to 46 yards for 15 tries.

Parker Hall, another Cleveland played, led in punt returns with eight.

Schmunk Has Scoring Honors

Columbia Star Paces Passers

CHICAGO — (AP) — The passing prowess of Columbia's Paul Governali has swept him into first place among the nation's leading ground gainers.

* * *

First figures from the American football statistical bureau, which has shifted its offices from Seattle to Chicago, showed today that in two games the Columbia senior had accounted for 454 yards from rushing and passing.

* * *

Second to Governali in total offense was Dick Fisher, former Ohio State player now with Bernie Bierman's Iowa Naval Pre-Flight school. In three games Fisher has totaled 425 yards; 216 coming in 36 rushes and 209 more in 16 attempted passes.

The No. 1 ball carrier, however, is Don Griffin, Illinois junior, who has sped 324 yards over a two game stretch.

Golf Star's In Army Now

Marvin H. (Bud) Ward, national amateur golf champion in 1939 and again in 1941, is in the army now, stationed at Miami Beach, Fla. Bud's wife is shown with him.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—(Wide World)—Travel troubles: Alabama's footballers, who made the trip via "u-drive" cars, will go to Mobile the same way for this week's game with the Pensacola Fliers. They say it's good training for driving jeeps, which most of them expect to be doing before long. . . . Harry Mendel comes up with a story of a six-day bike rider who solved the transportation problem by pedalling from Buffalo to Montreal for a race.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Kenneth Jones, Peoria (Ill.) Journal-Transcript: "It is easy to say now that the Cardinals have the stuff with which to upset the dope bucket! . . . Just as easy as it was for the military experts to predict the downfall of Stalingrad a month ago. Or for the baseball critics to say—a month ago—that the Cards never had an outside chance."

ONE-MINUTE SPORT PAGE.

One danger resulting from the recent world series is that other clubs will try to run like the Cardinals—thereby producing a record number of spavins and shin splints among the old guys who will be playing ball next year . . . Sailor Fred Apostoli, former 160-pound champ, may be the next middleweight opponent for Ray Robinson, if the navy doesn't have other plans for Freddie. . . . Latest report around town is that Branch Rickey definitely has that Brooklyn' job sewed up and the hunt for a manager has narrowed down to Bucky Harris and Chuck Dressen.

Navy Lieut Jack Miley, who, as a sports scribe, tabbed himself "Just a mug from Wisconsin," walked into a local restaurant the other night and encountered Chief Boatswain's Mate Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt Alf according to regulations, gave Jack his smartest salute. . . . "This is a helluva war," commented Miley. "Who ever thought a Vanderbilt was going to salute a Miley?"

FRANKIE RUNS WILD

ATHENS, Ga. — (AP) — Frankie Sinkwich, All-America halfback at the University of Georgia in 1941, has played less than 20 minutes in Georgia's last two games, but he scored four touchdowns, passed 245 yards and rushed 145 yards. Last year he led the nation's football players on total offense.

Brown Fears Southern Cal

Western Teams Come East Seeking Victory.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Perhaps that famous counsel "Go west young man" doesn't apply to football. Southern California and Stanford are coming east in quest of their season's first football successes Saturday.

Southern California hope to find it at Columbus, where the Trojans oppose Ohio State, one of the likely title threats in the western conference. Stanford goes to Notre Dame, the Big Ten's No. 1 neighbor.

Neither Pacific coast school has won a game in two starts, although the Trojans emerged with a scoreless tie against Washington State last week.

At Ohio State Coach Paul Brown admits he fears Southern California.

At Notre Dame, Coach Frank Leahy, already having trouble with his newly adopted T formation, runs smack into another one despite the fact the Stanford coach, like himself, is a Notre Dame grad who gained his early football training under Knute Rockne

Leahy ran into more trouble yesterday when he learned a knee injury probably would keep Center Wally Ziemba out of Saturday's game

Wooley Again Paces League

Takes High Game and Total In High Loop.

Al Wooley again led the high school bowling league at Colony alleys yesterday, turning in a 497 total and high game of 189.

Rams Point for Second Place

CLEVELAND—(INS)— Confident of a victory over the Redskins at Washington this Sunday, the Cleveland Rams today were shooting for second place in the National league football league.

The world champion Chicago Bears who beat the Rams last week 21-7, are expected to retain their first place position.

The Cleveland team's hopes were strengthened on learning of the rapid recovery of Jim Benton, star left end who injured his leg in the game at Detroit and was out of last week's line-up Benton is said to be one of the best pass receivers in the business

CAPTAINS PURDUE

LAFAYETTE, Ind—(INS)—John Andretich, hard driving right halfback, was named today to captain Purdue when the Boilermakers meet Northwestern at Evanston Saturday.

DECLARES DI MAGGIO HASN'T A WEAKNESS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (AP) — Johnny Beazley, St. Louis Cardinal rookie who won two games from the New York Yankees in the world series, says Joe DiMaggio is the best hitter he ever faced.

"He hasn't got a weakness," said Beazley at a home welcoming here. "He just stands there and doesn't bat an eyelid. Sometimes you wish he would."

Bosko Leads Westie-C Loop

Kindinger Rolls High Game In League.

George Bosko paced the Westinghouse "C" bowling league last night at Colony alleys with a 517 total, including a 203 game.

Ray Kindinger, who had a 510 total, scored high game of 206.

Appleseed Wins Opener

Breaks 7-7 Tie With 40-Yard Touchdown Run.

Johnny Appleseed junior high gridders opened their season with a 13 to 7 victory at Galion yesterday, breaking a 7-7 tie in the third quarter.

The Pioneers scored in the first quarter on a 60-yard march with Fullback Jay Marchint plunging over for the touchdown. Marchint also bucked the line for extra point.

Back came Galion in the third quarter with a long march ending in a 20-yard scoring run around end by Fullback McGuire. A pass for point was incomplete but was allowed because Appleseed was offside.

Then the Pioneers reached into their bag of tricks and came up with an end-around play on which Bob Bishop ran 40 yards for the winning touchdown.

Physical Exams Taking Place In City's Schools

Annual physical examination of first, third and fifth grade children in the Mansfield public and parochial schools is under way, a month earlier than usual.

Dr. Mabel Emery is conducting the examinations, starting at Prospect school yesterday. More than 2,000 children are scheduled for the thorough checkup.

During the last month visiting nurses have checked on weight, various measurements, vision and hearing. Classification cards bearing this data are submitted to Dr. Emery for entry of her findings, which will include nutritional, orthopedic and dental notations.

Registry cards also provide for follow-up reports by nurses and include statements regarding co-operation of parents.

The curfew bell is supposed to have been introduced into England by William the Conqueror; the object was to warn the public to put out their lights and fires at 8 o'clock in the evening.

GETS PROBATION

MILLERSBURG—Calvin Nethero indicted by the grand jury two weeks ago on two counts, one of breaking and entering and the other stealing two tires and tubes from the car of Emma and Barbara Schuler west of town, June 5, was placed on probation by Common Pleas Judge R. B. Putnam, for a period of five years.

Nethero, who had pleaded not guilty when arraigned in court, changed his plea to guilty on the petty larceny count. The case of breaking and entering was nolled.

PASSING DREAM

By Margaret Gorman Nichols

(Copyright, 1942.)

CHAPTER XV

They were married in the parlor of a century old brick house. There were no guests and no music. The clergyman, a little man in shiny blue serge, stood before them while his wife, plump and rosy, and his daughter, small and nervous, witnessed the ceremony.

When Temple remembered it later; she remembered chiefly the little bits of dust playing in a shaft of sunlight . . . She did not remember whether Jud kissed her and what pleasantries were exchanged between the clergyman and his family and Jud and her . . . Suddenly they were in the car again.

They were married!

They looked at each other.

Jud said, "We're shy . . . Isn't it funny that we're shy? Just standing there and listening to those few words and—"

"And you feel as if you've been through a deep and rich experience. I'm married." Temple smiled at him. "That sounds funny, coming from me. Married."

"I'd rather you'd think, 'I belong to Jud for three days and there's nothing anybody can do or say about it'."

She shook her head and smiled again. "But it isn't real."

"It's real enough, but it's so new. You aren't used to it yet, wife . . ." He shook his head and smiled a very boyish smile. "Nope. Doesn't click either. Wives are things other men have. Wives don't like you to spill ashes on the rug or get tight or spend your own money." He drew her to him and kissed her. He looked very happy. "You'll have to tell me the way to Paula's farm house."

"What's the name of this little town?"

They rode down the lane between green fields. It was lovelier, she thought, than the carpeted aisle that led to an altar. Jud stopped the car at the picket fence and looked with approval mixed with amusement at the little white house.

She gave him the key as they walked up the flagstone path to the front door.

When he had difficulty opening the door, he said, "This never happens in the movies."

But an instant later he was sweeping her up in his arms, carrying her across the threshold of a home borrowed for a honeymoon of three days.

On Monday the rain made the air cold enough for a fire.

From the kitchen she could see Jud wearing a brown sweater, his collar open, sitting in the chair before the fire smoking his pipe. As she dried the last dish, she thought, "I'll go upstairs by the back way and pack. I don't want him to see me pack." As she looked down at the plaid skirt and red sweater and moccasins she thought, "I'll wear these back."

But when she went upstairs she found that he had packed. There was nothing of his in the room except his brown Gladstone. Presently there was nothing of hers except her bag. Once more the room was just one of Paula's guest rooms . . . Not her room and Jud's where there had been laughter and love and the sound of their voices in the night, but . . . just one of Paula's guest rooms. Who would sleep here next, unknowing? Who could sleep here next, unknowing?

She came downstairs, went into the living-room, sat on a footstool and lay her head against Judson's knee. Humility that had once come hard to her came easily now. He ran his fingers through her hair.

"It's been idyllic, Temple . . . And the peace, Oh, God, the peace of this! Listen to the rain. It's like music. Music to us while to others it bogs down the machinery of war and brings a curse. We haven't seen a newspaper and we haven't turned on the radio. Temple, what do you know of marriage now?"

"I know that ecstasy isn't just a word I couldn't ever spell."

He smiled. "Husband is real? So is wife. Very real. You've been so wonderful and so alive, so terribly alive. We've given our best. We've had the best . . ."

"I want you to stay in love with me all of my life, Jud."

She did not see the muscles in his jaw tighten. "That'll be easy. You won't ever get fat and you have the kind of mind that will always go exploring and learning . . . Will you write often? Remind me to write down my address."

She stopped breathing for a moment. "I'll probably write too much. No, I won't write unless I have something to say."

"And you'll be cautious in what you say?"

When she wrote to him, she could not be his wife. "Of course."

"We have to say these things, darling. I don't want to talk about them either. When I get settled and know the ropes, I want you to come down. That brings up the sordid subject of money. I shouldn't need all of that twenty-one a month. In a few months I should be able to send you something."

"I'll manage."

"You're sleepy. I'll move the chair and get some pillows and we'll lie down before the fire."

"How much longer have we?"

"I'd say about . . . three hours."

It had been three days . . . Now it was only three hours.

They lay side by side on the hearth rug and the shadows played over them.

"I hope your thoughts are happy ones, Temple."

"They are. My thoughts are at peace even though we have less than three hours. I think this is the first time in my life that simply being alive was enough for me. I was always trying to do things better than anyone else—not to show off, but to prove to myself that I could. But to be a good lover you have to have only an intense awareness of being alive and in love. That is enough."

"I hope your growing pains won't hurt too much."

"I'd hate to be like Paula. She'll never discover anything again. Nothing will ever be new to her. What good are mink coats and diamond bracelets when nothing will ever be new to you. No new sensations, no surprises . . ."

He watched her as she slept. There was a lost look on his face. He let her sleep as long as he could. When he awakened her, she saw that he had brought down their bags and put out the fire and closed the curtains.

"Why did you let me sleep?" She had slept away time! Nothing was as precious as time now! She arose, pushed back her hair.

"Don't dress," he said gently. "You look all right. I won't take you to your front door. That would look to obvious. I'll put you in a taxi a few blocks away." He stood still and looked at her. "Are you ready, Temple?"

"Will I ever be ready? I'm sorry for that. Yes, I'm ready."

She put her arms around him. For an instant it amazed her, as it had for three days, that she could be so demonstrative. She closed her eyes, thinking, "as long as I can touch him, I'm happy. There isn't any sadness when he's near."

He was smiling. "What? No tears? I knew you wouldn't make it tough for me. I wonder if there's a rule about carrying the bride back over the threshold . . . the other way, I mean. If not, here's a new rule . . . By the way, how much do you weigh?"

They were laughing when the door closed behind them. The click of the lock resounded in her mind.

In a few moments they were riding down the lane again.

Temple entered the boarding house quickly and quietly, hoping, praying that no one would see her. When she closed the door of her room and put down her bag, she saw that everything was the same . . . the room, Abby's playing softly on the piano downstairs, a letter from home which the maid had left on the dresser. Everything was the same. But how could it be? Slowly she took off her wedding ring and let it rest in the palm of her hand before she put it in the dresser drawer to be locked later.

Everything was the same. It would go on being the same. And tomorrow she would sit in the big office and type and look at the clock on the wall, trying to keep from screaming.

The following afternoon in the station their final good-bye was brief and hurried. Jud was late and when he arrived, breathless and anxious, they had only a minute. No time now, no time to say any of the things she wanted to say.

"Are you all right, Temple?" he asked, his fingers pressing into her arm. "You look . . ." He smiled. "You look as if your sleep has caught up with you."

"I'm fine, Jud. You'll write soon? I don't know your address. We forgot."

"Soon as I get there. Take care of yourself, darling."

They were walking together now. He stopped, then put his arms around her and kissed her mouth hard . . . The train was moving and people were looking at them through the windows.

"Good-bye, Jud!"

He was running away from her to the moving train.

She raised her hand to wave but dropped it. There was no one to whom to wave . . . He was gone.

For a few minutes she stood alone, bewildered and empty, before she turned and walked slowly out of the station. Imps in her mind were jeering at her, "You're married but you have no husband . . . You're a war bride . . . What now, little girl? What now?"

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE APPETITES"

See the Tempting Variety at A. & P.'s Dairy Counter!

Win friends every time you serve "versatile" cheese. Choose your cheese in A&P's Dairy Counter. For your A&P Super Market is cheese headquarters, only place in town where you can get Mel-O-Bit and all other popular varieties.

Influence appetites with taste-tempting cheese lunch boxes, "snacks", real he-man meals. Cheese is a grand substitute for less available meats. Rich in vitamin A and G, proteins, with lots of important minerals including calcium.

Save at A&P's Dairy Counter where quality is always tops, prices low. Enjoy fine quality eggs, milk, butter . . . today, or any day at A&P.

For Quick, Hearty Meals

By itself, or combined with other foods, cheese is a rugged main dish. It's swell with pies and fruits, or in salads. With crackers it's a sugar saving dessert. Cheese is even quicker than a can of spaghetti or baked beans — those two convenient standbys that are out for the duration.

WE DESIRE to thank our many relatives, friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful during the death of our father, Joseph Broach. To Rev. Hagelbarger for his comforting words, to the Wappner Funeral Directors for their efficient service, to all those who sent beautiful flowers, and to any others who assisted in any way.
Orrel Broach, Viron Broach, Mrs. Carl Alexander and family. (A-k)
